Spring Trouble Is Feared in Haiti Republic

Some Observers See Possibility of Rise Of Castro-like Regime

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The lid may blow off this spring in the confused Caribbean Negro Republic of Haiti.

If an explosion comes, say reliable sources, U.S. military action may be needed to prevent a Castro-like regime from popping up on the Island of Hispaniola only 50 miles across the strategic Windward Passage from Cuba.

Haiti, a turbulent dictatorship, shares Hispaniola with the Dominican Republic, itself freed recently from the Trujillo dictatorship.

Sources in touch with Port au Prince, the Haitian capital, speculate that President Francois Duvalier, dictator of the French-speaking nation of 4 million, will leave the country suddenly, before May, with the explanation he is seeking medical treatment abroad. The 55-year-old dictator has been ailing.

Informants add that if Dr. Duvalier decides to leave, he probably will turn the government over to his current interior minister, Luc F. Francoeur.

Duvalier is a physician turned politician, known to Haitians as "Papa Doc." He has survived a dozen plots since taking office in 1957 after an election denounced by his foes as fraudulent.

Now he may scent disaster. A general student strike against the regime is in the offing. Duvalier's secret police and militia are reported cracking down with a wave of arrests.

Reliable informants said two students were shot dead in Port au Prince's streets Friday and that the capital is being flooded with anti-Duvalier handbills. The situation is described as extremely tense. Haitians in exile all around the hemisphere are reported on the alert for an upheaval.

In 1961, during a legislative election, Duvalier faked a plebiscite and had himself declared re-elected for another full six-year term, two years before his first term was to run out. That first term expires in May.

Duvalier's foes say he is distrustful of his army fearful of as

Service Committee To Study High St. Cemetery Proposal

A proposal asking improvements at the old High St. Cemetery has been referred to City Council's Service Committee.

The proposal, designed to overcome neglected and unsightly conditions at the old burial ground, was presented to Council by Mayor Richard W. Penn. The solons, unable to come up with an immediate solution, passed the issue to the service unit.

Mayor Penn has suggested that markers and monuments be removed to allow proper mowing and leveling. He said this could be done after all graves had been recorded and adequately filed in a public office.

His plan, as outlined last night, calls for the eventual erection of a single plaque or memorial that would show proper identification of persons buried there.

THE MAYOR noted that there seems to be no accurate record of persons buried in the cemetery. Broken, scattered and badly deteriorated stones add further complications, he said.

According to Penn, his proposal was offered in an effort to provide economical care and still preserve some of the cemetery's history.

He said the plan does not tend to desecrate the dead by removing the stones and markers. In the same token, he said the years of neglect probably represents a desecration just as bad.

Penn said he hopes public sentiment on the matter will be made known. He said if his proposal is objectionable, a different approach could possibly be followed.

Franklin Crites, local contractor, has volunteered to aid the service committee in its study of the issue.

Sunday Liquor Sale OK Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The first serious attempt to legalize Sunday liquor sales in a quarter-century was before the Ohio Legislature today.

The sponsor is former Senate Minority Leader Joseph W. Bartunek, D-Cuyahoga. The bill reportedly has the backing of Ohio's big hotels and restaurants, particularly in Cleveland.

Ever since the repeal of prohibition in 1933, Ohio has continued to ban Sunday liquor sales.

Bartunek's bill would permit for a $1,000 annual fee, the sale of liquor between 1 p.m. and 10 p.m. on Sundays in hotels and restaurants with a liquor-service seating capacity of 150 and up if the establishment's business is 50 per cent or more in liquor.

The Sunday sales measure was introduced during a legislative day which saw the first major Rhodes administration bill bounce briskly through the House with the aid of 10 Democratic votes.

The vote was 95-32 with only Democrats in opposition.

The measure makes the term appointments of nine directors of key state departments coincide with the governor's four-year term.

If approved by the Senate, the measure would eliminate the six-year holdover appointees who often have proved embarrassing to governors of opposite political faiths.

The affected cabinet posts are those of tax commissioner, superintendent of banks, directors of health, mental hygiene and correction, personnel, natural resources and public works and administrators of workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation.

Sen. Roy Gardner, R-Richland, introduced a bill requiring physically able poor relief recipients to work to qualify for their assistance, a policy which now is optional at the county level. The measure, a product of the State Welfare Department, is designed to reduce relief rolls which have soared from about $20 million in 1952 to about $62.5 million last year.

In a lecture at Tulane University in New Orleans, White suggested that instead of 50-mile hikes, it would be better if people walked two to four miles a day and occasionally walked up a few flights of stairs instead of taking an elevator.

Donors are asked to call the Red Cross office to make reservations although "walkins" will be accepted according to Mrs. Roloff Wolford, executive secretary.

SPECIAL donors are being sought tomorrow during the regular visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile at the First Methodist Church.

Blood types listed as "critical needs" include O-positive for an 18-year-old girl scheduled to undergo open heart surgery; 12-15 pints of A-negative; 3-4 pints of B-negative and 2-3 pints of AB-negative.

U.S. Hints of Compromise In Soviet Test Ban Talks

DONALD W. FLIERL

Flierl Is Named President Of County Community Fund

Donald W. Flierl, Ashville, has been named president of the Pickaway County Community Fund for the coming term.

Flierl was named to the executive post during a Community Fund Recognition meeting last night at the Courthouse. He succeeds Dr. Robert Burton of Knollwood Village.

Earl Palm, last year's campaign chairman, was elevated to the post of vice president. E. G. Grigg was named to the secretary post and Eugene Wilson will serve as treasurer.

Also named during the evening were various township, municipality and organization trustees and representatives. Selected were:

RICHARD BEADLE, Walnut Twp.; Mrs. Herman Porter, Monroe Twp.; Mrs. Hewitt Cromley, Harrison Twp.; Dr. Robert Burton and William Crist, Washington Twp.; Mrs. Ted Corcoran, Williamsport.

Named Circleville trustees-at-large were T. D. Harmon, Dr. E. L. Montgomery and L. D. Varble.

Organizational directors are: E. G. Grigg and Earl Palm, Boy Scouts; Mrs. John Weeds and Mrs. Walter Heine, Girl Scouts; Carl Heffelfinger and D. L. Garrett, Salvation Army; James Reichelderfer and Paul Town, Youth Center.

Harry Hebard, 16 described by his minister as "a good, quiet boy who was real active in the church," apparently had planned the slayings for some time, according to Dist. Atty. Robert Warren.

The boy was scheduled for arraignment today on first-degree murder charges. Warren said he will seek a psychiatric examination for him.

Harry, a high school junior, surrendered meekly Tuesday about six hours after the bodies were found in the family home.

Killed by shots from an automatic pistol and rifle were the boy's stepmother, Joyce, 35; her three children by a previous marriage, John Rudell, 15, and Judy and Janice, 11-year-old twins; and Harry's thrice-married father, Jack Hebard, 38, a part-time auto man.

The father, an airline freight foreman used the professional name "Lucky O'Hara" and was well-known on the Midwest fair circuit.

The boy told the district attorney he "had a general feeling of being left out of the family circle." He declined to see his minister, the Rev. David Thompson, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Mr. Thompson said he was "aware of trouble" involving the boy and his family. A spokesman at the high school Harry attended said he had always been moody.

USS Woodrow Wilson Christening Is Set

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP) — The 18th Polaris nuclear submarine will be christened the USS Woodrow Wilson by a granddaughter of the late president, the Navy said today.

Miss Eleanor Axson Sayre of Cambridge, Mass., will swing the bottle against the bow of the 425-foot missile-armed undersea craft at Mare Island Naval Shipyard Friday.

Inspection Demand May Be Reduced

GENEVA (AP) — The United States indicated today it would settle for fewer than eight on-site inspections a year within the Soviet Union if the Soviet Union accepted a completely foolproof inspection procedure.

Chief U. S. Delegate William C. Foster presented the idea in a meeting of the 17-nation disarmament conference. He stressed that any American willingness to compromise would depend, among other things, on a satisfactory number of inspectors, the areas where they could operate and the criteria under which they could be dispatched.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov ignored Foster's suggestion. He tried to move the debate away from the test ban and into a discussion of an East-West nonaggression pact.

The Soviet Union has advanced the pact idea frequently, but the West wants it considered only in the general framework of disarmament treaty.

The talk in the corridors around the conference was that the United States and Britain ultimately might compromise on five or six on-site inspections per year on Soviet territory to check on suspicious earth tremors indicative of underground nuclear explosions.

Such a concession never has been spelled out to newsmen by members of the U.S. delegation, however. The negotiations have been deadlocked for weeks between the Soviet maximum offer of two or three inspections and the Western minimum demand for eight.

Foster released only extracts from his speech in the closed conference session. These included an oblique reference to American readiness to go below the minimum of eight inspections.

"The United States," said Foster, "... has already indicated its flexibility in private talks and its willingness to consider such position as the Soviet Union might put forth on key issues of the negotiations."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., attending the conference as U.S. Senate observer, told newsmen it would be difficult to obtain Senate approval for less than eight on-site inspections per year.

The deciding factor in any reduction in the number of inspections, Humphrey said, would be the total treaty arrangements to prevent cheating on the test ban agreement.

"I don't think we ought to say that any particular figure is the ultimate and final word," Humphrey said. "Obviously the Soviet offer of two or three inspections is unacceptable."

Foster was to fly to Washington later today to report to President Kennedy. He is expected back in Geneva early next week.

Museum Gets Space Capsule

WASHINGTON (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. presented his space capsule Friendship 7 to the Smithsonian Institution today.

Along with it went the space suit and helmet that he wore and the small American flag that he carried on his historic three-orbit flight—the first by an American—exactly a year ago.

About 400 persons jammed into the Smithsonian to witness the presentation ceremony which took place under two famous aircraft, suspended from the ceiling.

These were the craft in which Orville and Wilbur Wright made the first powered flight in 1903; and the Spirit of St. Louis, the airplane in which Charles A. Lindbergh made the first solo crossing of the Atlantic in 1927.

Shakeup of AEC Urged

NEW YORK (AP) — David E. Lilienthal, the first chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, says it should be reorganized so the "contours of its job confirm to our 1946 picture of the atom, not that of 1946 when it was established."

Solons Want All Reds Out of Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leading congressional Democrats joined several Republicans today in calling for the withdrawal of all—and not just part—of the 17,000 Soviet troops in Cuba.

A written communication to President Kennedy that Soviet Premier Khrushchev plans to ship several thousand Russian soldiers home soon was hailed as a significant development.

But members of both parties said the Kennedy administration must continue to press with all of the force at its command for complete evacuation of Soviet military men from the island.

Some informants said the Soviet Union had given assurance that several thousand troops would be out of Cuba by March 15.

There was no official comment from the White House or the State Department.

John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, was reported to have told the House Foreign Affairs Committee Tuesday that several empty Soviet merchant ships were on their way to Cuba.

While urging the administration to press for the withdrawal of all Soviet forces from Cuba, no members of Congress came forward with any concrete proposals as to how this could be accomplished short of force—a policy Sen. George D. Aiken R-Vt., said he is convinced the Democratic administration shares.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said that while the Soviet pledge to withdraw some troops is encouraging "we cannot be complacent about it until all the Russian troops and technicians manning any weapons are removed."

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., head of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, said the Soviet move was only a first step.

"Our policy must be to insist that they all be withdrawn," he said. "This is the only thing that will really remove the menace."

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., found little encouragement in the withdrawal of only a part of the Soviet garrison. He said there should not be one uniformed Russian or technician left in Cuba.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana voiced hope—which he said was shared by Kennedy—that Khrushchev will call all of his troops home.

Absences Due To Illness Show Increase Today

The rate of absenteeism of Circleville teachers declined today, but the list of student absences climbed to 406, due primarily to an outbreak of flu in this area.

All city and county schools continued to operate, although a teacher shortage proposed a threat Tuesday. In Circleville schools alone, 20 teachers were downed by the sickness yesterday. Four returned for classes today.

Senior high school students were sent to several elementary classes again today due to a lack of teachers. The city superintendent's office reported that two students were sent to Wayne Twp. today to "maintain discipline in the absence of teachers."

Mrs. Mary M. Yates, city school attendance officer, has been absent from her duties for the past several days due to illness and an accurate accounting of the major reason for student absences was not available.

KENNETH CRAIG, principal at Williamsport, yesterday reported that about 17 per cent of the student body was "out with the flu" in addition to a bus driver, a custodian and the school secretary. He said several students who became ill at school were sent home yesterday.

Virgil Cress, business manager of Circleville schools, said today that several cafeteria workers, custodians and a couple of bus drivers were not able to work. However, he said only two cases of flu were reported. One bus driver and the fireman of the industrial arts building at the high school.

A spot check with county schools indicated above normal student absences. However, they were not affected as much as the Circleville area.

John Henn, coordinator of the Logan Elm District, was admitted to Berger Hospital today although his illness is not associated with influenza.

John L. Chilcote, principal at South Court Elementary, is recuperating at home after a siege of influenza and pneumonia.

Betancourt, JFK Continue Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela, described by President Kennedy as "target No. 1" for dictators and Communists alike, resumes his White House talks today.

The two leaders met for an hour and 20 minutes Tuesday in a conference Kennedy called "good—very fine." The White House said they dealt with economic matters. Venezuela is a major exporter of oil to the United States.

Before conferring with Kennedy this afternoon, Betancourt will lay a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery and address the National Press Club.

News Conference Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will hold a news conference at 4 p.m. Thursday. It will be Kennedy's third news session in three weeks.

Extra Idle Pay Is Seen For 2,940

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The number of people eligible to collect some back jobless pay as the result of a 10th District Court of Appeals ruling was estimated today at 2,940.

These are persons whose added payments were held up because their employers had made no decision to pay the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation some added charges.

Originally, some 24,000 employees were eligible for the back pay, and most received it when their employers had paid the necessary charges. The estimate of 2,940 was given today by BUC officials, who said between 500 and 600 employers are involved in the cases.

The 2,940—who are eligible under court orders to receive $335-900—are the ones who were among those collecting unemployment compensation on Oct. 16, 1959, when the Ohio Legislature raised weekly benefits from $33 to $42. They continued to get $33, and the appeals court ruled Tuesday they must be paid the difference.

The bureau has appealed the cases of between 500 and 600 employers in 66 counties to increase charges against them to make up for the additional money that has to be paid. This, the BUC said, has been the cause of the delay in payment.

The appeals court suit which brought the order to pay was filed by Paul Kramer of Columbus, an automobile parts company employee. Kramer is entitled to about $200 in back jobless benefits under the increase.

21 Ohio Cities Participate In Manpower Training Plan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A federal retraining program is giving new hope to hundreds of Ohioans who, until last March, faced the prospect of continuing on unemployment compensation or going on relief.

Twenty-one Ohio cities are participating in the Federal Manpower Development and Training Program. They are Cleveland, Akron, Logan, Findlay, Mansfield, Canton, Middletown, Greenville, Washington Court House, Springfield, Sidney, Lancaster, Lima, Youngstown, Columbus, Elyria, Ironton, Portsmouth, St. Marys, Painesville and Bridgeport.

According to Michael S'anton Cleveland area coordinator for the program, the legislation resulted from two primary needs: "To provide employment opportunities for persons unemployed or about to become unemployed due to automation, and to train those persons now unemployed because of shifts in demand for skills and products."

Charles R. Curtin, state supervisor of the program, says 30 courses of study are operating throughout Ohio, three have been approved but not started, and eight to 10 are expected to be approved shortly. Ohio ranks fourth in the country in the number of courses approved, he said.

So far, Curtin says, 736 persons have enrolled in the courses and students have finished their training. The Ohio Employment Service administers the program. The Cleveland area, which includes Lake and Cuyahoga counties, leads Ohio areas in the number of courses approved—eight—and the number operating—seven.

'Left-Out' Boy Slays 5 of Kin

16-Year-Old Slated For Mental Exams

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — A high school youth whose broodings, over his place in the family circle exploded into a burst of gunfire, has told authorities how he shot and killed his father and stepmother and her three children.

The boy was scheduled for arraignment today on first-degree murder charges. Warren said he will seek a psychiatric examination for him.

Harry, a high school junior, surrendered meekly Tuesday about six hours after the bodies were found in the family home.

Killed by shots from an automatic pistol and rifle were the boy's stepmother, Joyce, 35; her three children by a previous marriage, John Rudell, 15, and Judy and Janice, 11-year-old twins; and Harry's thrice-married father, Jack Hebard, 38, a part-time auto-man.

The father, an airline freight foreman used the professional name "Lucky O'Hara" and was well-known on the Midwest fair circuit.

The boy told the district attorney he "had a general feeling of being left out of the family circle." He declined to see his minister, the Rev. David Thompson, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Mr. Thompson said he was "aware of trouble" involving the boy and his family. A spokesman at the high school Harry attended said he had always been moody.

U.S. Woodward Wilson Christening Is Set

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP) — The 18th Polaris nuclear submarine will be christened the USS Woodward Wilson by a granddaughter of the late president, the Navy said today.

Miss Eleanor Axson Sayre of Cambridge, Mass., will swing the bottle against the bow of the 425-foot missile-armed undersea craft at Mare Island Naval Shipyard Friday.

Inspection Demand May Be Reduced

GENEVA (AP) — The United States indicated today it would settle for fewer than eight on-site inspections a year within the Soviet Union if the Soviet Union accepted a completely foolproof inspection procedure.

Chief U. S. Delegate William C. Foster presented the idea in a meeting of the 17-nation disarmament conference. He stressed that any American willingness to compromise would depend, among other things, on a satisfactory number of inspectors, the areas where they could operate and the criteria under which they could be dispatched.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov ignored Foster's suggestion. He tried to move the debate away from the test ban and into a discussion of an East-West nonaggression pact.

The Soviet Union has advanced the pact idea frequently, but the West wants it considered only in the general framework of disarmament treaty.

The talk in the corridors around the conference was that the United States and Britain ultimately might compromise on five or six on-site inspections per year on Soviet territory to check on suspicious earth tremors indicative of underground nuclear explosions.

Such a concession never has been spelled out to newsmen by members of the U.S. delegation, however. The negotiations have been deadlocked for weeks between the Soviet maximum offer of two or three inspections and the Western minimum demand for eight.

Foster released only extracts from his speech in the closed conference session. These included an oblique reference to American readiness to go below the minimum of eight inspections.

"The United States," said Foster, "has already indicated its flexibility in private talks and its willingness to consider such position as the Soviet Union might put forth on key issues of the negotiations."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., attending the conference as U. S. Senate observer, told newsmen it would be difficult to obtain Senate approval for less than eight on-site inspections per year.

The deciding factor in any reduction in the number of inspections, Humphrey said, would be the total treaty arrangements to prevent cheating on the test ban agreement.

"I don't think we ought to say that any particular figure is the ultimate and final word," Humphrey said. "Obviously the Soviet offer of two or three inspections is unacceptable."

Foster was to fly to Washington later today to report to President Kennedy. He is expected back in Geneva early next week.

Museum Gets Space Capsule

WASHINGTON (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. presented his space capsule Friendship 7 to the Smithsonian Institution today.

Along with it went the space suit and helmet that he wore and the small American flag that he carried on his historic three-orbit flight—the first by an American—exactly a year ago.

About 400 persons jammed into the Smithsonian to witness the presentation ceremony which took place under two famous aircraft, suspended from the ceiling.

These were the craft in which Orville and Wilbur Wright made his first powered flight in 1903; and the Spirit of St. Louis, the airplane in which Charles A. Lindbergh made the first solo crossing of the Atlantic in 1927.

Shakeup of AEC Urged

NEW YORK (AP) — David E. Lilienthal, the first chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, says it should be reorganized so the "contours of its job confirm to our 1963 picture of the atom, not that of 1946 when it was established."

Solons Want All Reds Out of Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leading congressional Democrats joined several Republicans today in calling for the withdrawal of all—and not just part—of the 17,000 Soviet troops in Cuba.

A written communication to President Kennedy that Soviet Premier Khrushchev plans to ship several thousand Russian soldiers home soon was hailed as a significant development.

But members of both parties said the Kennedy administration must continue to press with all of the force at its command for complete evacuation of Soviet military men from the island.

Some informants said the Soviet Union had given assurance that several thousand troops would be out of Cuba by March 15.

There was no official comment from the White House or the State Department.

John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, was reported to have told the House Foreign Affairs Committee Tuesday that several empty Soviet merchant ships were on their way to Cuba.

While urging the administration to press for the withdrawal of all Soviet forces from Cuba, no members of Congress came forward with any concrete proposals as to how this could be accomplished short of force—a policy Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said he is convinced the Democratic administration shares.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said that while the Soviet pledge to withdraw some troops is encouraging "we cannot be complacent about it until all the Russian troops and technicians manning any weapons are removed."

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., head of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, said the Soviet move was only a first step.

"Our policy must be to insist that they all be withdrawn," he said. "This is the only thing that will really remove the menace."

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., found little encouragement in the withdrawal of only a part of the Soviet garrison. He said there should not be one uniformed Russian or technician left in Cuba.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana voiced hope—which he said was shared by Kennedy—that Khrushchev will call all of his troops home.

Absences Due To Illness Show Increase Today

The rate of absenteeism of Circleville teachers declined today, but the list of student absences climbed to 406, due primarily to an outbreak of flu in this area.

All city and county schools continued to operate, although a teacher shortage proposed a threat Tuesday. In Circleville schools alone, 20 teachers were downed by the sickness yesterday. Four returned for classes today.

Senior high school students were sent to several elementary classes again today due to a lack of teachers. The city superintendent's office reported that two students were sent to Wayne Twp. today to "maintain discipline in the absence of teachers."

Mrs. Mary M. Yates, city school attendance officer, has been absent from her duties for the past several days due to illness and an accurate accounting of the major reason for student absences was not available.

KENNETH CRAIG, principal at Williamsport, yesterday reported that about 17 per cent of the student body was "out with the flu" in addition to a bus driver, a custodian and the school secretary. He said several students who became ill at school were sent home yesterday.

Virgil Cress, business manager of Circleville schools, said today that several cafeteria workers, custodians and a couple of bus drivers were not able to work. However, he said only two cases of flu were reported . . . One bus driver and the fireman of the industrial arts building at the high school.

A spot check with county schools indicated above normal student absences. However, they were not affected as much as the Circleville area.

John Henn, coordinator of the Logan Elm District, was admitted to Berger Hospital today although his illness is not associated with influenza.

John L. Chilcote, principal at South Court Elementary, is recuperating at home after a siege of influenza and pneumonia.

Betancourt, JFK Continue Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela, described by President Kennedy as "target No. 1" for dictators and Communists alike, resumes his White House talks today.

The two leaders met for an hour and 20 minutes Tuesday in a conference Kennedy called "good—very fine." The White House said they dealt with economic matters. Venezuela is a major exporter of oil to the United States.

Before conferring with Kennedy this afternoon, Betancourt will lay a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery and address the National Press Club.

News Conference Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will hold a news conference at 4 p.m. Thursday. It will be Kennedy's third news session in three weeks.

Petition Requests Traffic Light at City Intersection

A petition seeking re-installation of a traffic light at Ohio and Washington S.S. was submitted last night to City Council.

The petition was signed by approximately 36 persons living near the intersection. Their request was based on the urgent need of a light for safety measures.

The light formerly located there was damaged several weeks ago when struck by the trailer assembly of a passing truck. According to a police investigation, the light was hanging four inches below the legal limit.

Police said the truck trailer was within the legal height limits and that the insurance company covering the vehicle so far has refused to pay for damage to the light. Safety Director Miller Fissell told Council that his department currently has no funds for erection of a new signal.

OSU Student Spends Day in White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tuesday was a busy day in the life of a 21-year-old college junior from Ohio State University.

But it was an interesting one for Timothy Frost of Columbus, who spent most of the day in the White House press office.

Frost, as an observer, sat in on Press Secretary Pierre Salinger's conferences and telephone calls. Among other things, he attended two briefings Salinger held, got into the press section welcoming ceremonies for President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela and went to a luncheon at Blair House, the government's guest home for distinguished visitors.

Frost's visit to the White House was set up by the Ohio Valley Regional Association of International Relations Clubs.

Frost said his impressions were a little difficult to put into words because he doubted if it was an average day for Salinger, what with all the conferees and calls.

He said the names he heard mentioned in Salinger's office didn't mean too much to him, and he was sure that if anything really important had come up he would have been asked to leave.

Youth Drinking Spree Linked to Death of Boy

CINCINNATI (AP) — Juvenile authorities are investigating a weekend drinking party that resulted in the death of Robert Sims, 16.

Sims was found Monday in a wooded area, and the Hamilton County coroner's office said he died of exposure and acute alcoholism. Police said three younger boys admitted abandoning Sims when he passed out.

ments prompted Councilman D. J. Carpenter to reply that one of the lights at Northridge Road, Pickaway St. and Atwater Ave, could be removed and placed at Ohio and Washington. He said money could be made available for the change.

However, Fissell hinted that the lights are still needed at the Northridge-Pickaway-Atwater intersection.

The discussion ended when Councilman Robert Hedges suggested the matter be referred to Council's Safety Committee. He also recommended a study be made to determine exactly where traffic lights are needed and where perhaps they are not.

In other business the solons adopted a resolution naming Harry Clifton Jr. to serve on an estimating board relative to assessments for Circleville Sewer District No. 2. He replaces Charles H. Radcliff.

Radcliff, named to the board two weeks ago, was ruled ineligible because he owns real estate within the sewer district. Other members of the board are Paul Johnson and George Barnes.

One of two ordinances passed authorized the purchase of an easement for Sanitary Sewer District No. 2. The rights will be acquired from John Himrod at a cost of $40.

THE MEASURE also obligates the city to keep McHenry Ditch dredged and cleaned for the distance that it passes through the owner's land to Hargus Creek and for maintenance of a levee for the same distance along the west side of the ditch.

It was pointed out that proper cleaning of the ditch is necessary for operation of the city's sewer system within the area.

The second ordinance provided for the transfer of $965.17 from the waterworks operating fund for the purchase of Bond No. 310 of the issue of first mortgage water revenue bonds of the Water Department.

sensation and suspicion of an international move against him in the Organization of American States. His foes say the moment his 1957 mandate expires he will be in the presidency illegally and that Venezuela and the Dominican Republic are prepared to withdraw diplomatic recognition. Other nations would be expected to follow, isolating Duvalier.

Almost certainly there would be violence. Moderates among Duvalier's foes are not united. The extreme leftist element, however small, is organized, informants report. Communists are among the student groups attempting to touch off violence and seize the leadership.

Duvalier's sudden departure could leave the poverty-stricken nation, 90 per cent of whose people cannot read or write, on the edge of civil war.

The army, distrusted by Duvalier, is poor in weapons. The arms are in the hands of Duvalier's militia, a semi-military organization the president uses to suppress internal opposition.

A struggle for power involving the army and the militia would leave the country vulnerable to operations from outside.

Castroite elements inside Haiti likely would join forces quickly with infiltrators in a strike for power. Communists already in powerful positions would help them, the informants report.

Hijacked Ship Is Awaited At Amazon Port of Macapa

BELEM Brazil (AP) — With Brazilian authorities in control, the hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui sailed slowly today toward the Amazon port of Macapa, last stop in her week's forced run at gunpoint.

The freighter's pro-Communist captors, disarmed Tuesday night without a fight, faced detention as guests of the Brazilian navy while diplomats wrangled over their fate.

Ordination Of Pacifist Is Set Aside

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Presbytery of Cincinnati has set aside the ordination of the Rev. Maurice F. McCrackin, a controversial pacifist who has served a prison sentence for refusing to pay income tax.

The presbytery's action Tuesday night apparently finished its long dispute with the 57-year-old clergyman. However, McCrackin still has a congregation — the Community Church of Cincinnati — he formed last summer after the presbytery declared vacant his pulpit at the West Cincinnati-St. Barnabas Church.

That action came after the church's general assembly had upheld his earlier suspension for defying civil law by refusing to pay federal income taxes.

McCrackin contends no true Christian can pay income tax because part of it is used for warlike purposes. He was convicted in 1958 for failure to heed an Internal Revenue Service summons to discuss his taxes and was sentenced to six months in prison. He was released in 1959 and still refuses to pay income tax.

10 Warren County Boys Under House Arrest

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Ten Warren County youths are under house arrest while Juvenile Court decides how to punish them for knocking down dozens of rural mailboxes.

The terms of the house arrest are that they may not drive motor vehicles and must return home immediately after classes at Little Miami High School. The youths, ages 16 and 17, were rounded up Friday night and Monday morning.

Shrine Club Installs New Officers

Approximately 50 couples were present to greet illustrious Potentate, Clarence W. "Dolly" England of Aladdin Temple, and Mrs. England, at the annual Pickaway Shrine Club Installation Dinner held at Tinks Tavern.

Durward D. Dowden, retiring president, introduced illustrious Potentate England who gave a review of Shrine activities and urged members of the local club to carry on the crippled children's program "with renewed vigor."

Illustrious Potentate England was accompanied by two members of his Divan, Dr. Robert Hedges and Ernest J. Roush, and their wives.

Retiring president Dowden in his review of the local clubs activities for the past year announced that the Pickaway Shrine Club contributed $1,650 to the Aladdin Crippled Children's Hospital Fund during 1962.

The local officers for 1963 installed by illustrious Potentate England are, Lloyd E. Minor, president; L. Robert Liston Jr., vice president; Joseph C. Peters, secretary and Harold R. Hott, treasurer.

The club directors, who will serve during 1963 are, Paul W. Armstrong, Robert W. Wood, Ray Reid, W. E. Christopher, James Ford and Durward D. Dowden.

Lloyd E. Minor, the new president, announced the appointment of Donald Strous as chaplain and Earl W. Palm as sergeant-at-arms and his committees for the year.

One of the evening's highlights was the presentation of a gavel to the club by vice president Liston made from a piece of wood from the famous Logan Elm. The gavel was made by Mrs. Liston's father, Fred Boggs.

Aladdin's "Little German Band" under the direction of Dr. Robert Hedges, provided the entertainment.

David S. Craven, chairman of the Reception Committee, assisted by Mrs. Craven, used a St. Valentine's Day theme in identifying the women present.

Coal Mining Acids Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — A research program to devise new techniques for reducing acid water drainage from coal mining operations will be undertaken by the Bureau of Mines in cooperation with the Coal Industry Advisory Committee, Ohio River Valley Sanitation Commission ORSANCO.

A cooperative agreement between the Department of the Interior and the industry committee to carry out such a study was signed today. The commission has headquarters in Cincinnati.

The Ohio River Valley has been faced with rapidly growing acid water problems, a spokesman for the Interior Department said. He said the research project will attempt to develop and evaluate techniques for sealing off openings in underground mines to prevent acid pollution of streams.

Anniversary Showing Set by Children's Shop

The Children's Shop at 151 W. Main St. will celebrate its tenth anniversary tomorrow with a spring and summer trunk showing from 3 to 9 p. m. at the store.

Also scheduled as a part of the anniversary celebration is the opening of a third room of the Deb Shop, to be called The Country Store.

This room will be an extension of the junior department.

Mrs. Dorothy E. Jonnes and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boggs opened the shop Feb. 21, 1953, carrying infants' and children's clothing through all pre school sizes for both boys and girls.

The original store was housed in one room at the present location. After about two years, the girls' wear department was expanded and a boys department was added in a second room.

In 1958 the adjoining property at 149 W. Main St. was acquired and plans for the Deb Shop were started. In the spring of 1959 the front room of the Deb Shop was opened, carrying teen sizes for girls.

In the fall of 1962 a second room was remodeled to better accommodate the junior department. Dotie Boggs assumed the management of the Deb Shop during the summer of 1962.

A "Teen Board" was formed in September to help in the teen department.

Members of the board are Sandy Ward, Lynn Reichelderfer, Elaine Hutzelman and Patti Hines.

Their duties include acting as hostesses at store functions and serving as models for new style showings.

The management of the shop is a family affair.

Mabel Ice and Lois Burtner are employed as full time clerks, and Kelly Anderson, a student at Circleville High School, is a part time clerk.

Youth Council Eyes Trip to Legislature

Preliminary plans for a tour of the Ohio Legislature were discussed when the Pickaway County Farm Bureau Youth Council met last night at Logan Elm School.

The tour, set for Mar. 6, was outlined by Ed Johnson, Farm Bureau organization director. Approximately 38 members were present for the session.

James Harral, vice chairman of the Southeast Region Youth Cabinet, described a one-day Conference scheduled Mar. 16 at Sheridan High School in Perry County. Several members of the local organization are slated to attend.

President Barbara Dudson directed a discussion concerning a Youth Council Spring Banquet and dance scheduled in April.

Jimmie D. Wolfe, 17, Route 4, Chillicothe, appeared on a traffic violation filed by the State Highway Patrol. The case was referred to Ross County juvenile authorities.

Stock Market Prices Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices slipped early this afternoon in an extension of the easier trend that set in late Monday.

The market averages showed declines roughly approaching the setback for Tuesday's entire session.

Most losses ranged from fractions to a dollar a share with scattered steeper falls. Trading was moderate.

At noon The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 1.0 at 257.7. Industrials were off 2.0, rails down .4 and utilities were unchanged.

The approaching holiday weekend was cited as one factor leading to investor hesitation. Major exchanges will shut down Friday, Washington's Birthday.

No major section of the market was able to buck the downtrend.

Circleville Youth Injured in Accident

Charles LeVan, 17, 476 Dearborn Ave., received contusions and abrasions to his left arm in a one-car auto accident on the Yankeetown-Dawson Road yesterday.

LeVan will be cited to appear in juvenile court.

He was treated and released from the Berger Hospital emergency room.

Youngster Treated

Better Health Through Knowledge

SEX-LINKED HEREDITY

Q. I recently heard my college daughter talking to a boy about sex-linked heredity. I was absolutely shocked! Can you advise me privately what this is all about? I want to have a talk with that young lady!

A. Before you do any talking, brush up on your science. The kids were no doubt discussing some new and exciting developments in genetics. Every cell in the human body contains 23 pairs of chromosomes (rod-like structures) which carry hereditary factors (genes). Normally, both male and female have 22 pairs of autosomes plus one pair of "sex" chromosomes consisting of two X chromosomes in the female... one X and one Y in the male. Sex-linked heredity usually implies that the trait is due to a gene carried by an X ("sex") chromosome. Clear? If not, perhaps you should have a talk with your daughter... but you do the listening!

MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY

Q. I have two brothers who are victims of muscular dystrophy. Can the disease be inherited? If so, would my children be afflicted even though I show no signs of the disease?

A. Muscular dystrophy has been defined as genetically determined primary degenerative myopathy. In other words, an inherited disorder of the muscles. There are several varieties of the disease. One, the Duchenne type, occurs almost exclusively in young boys and is inherited as a sex-linked recessive character. Efforts are now being made to identify female carriers of the inheritable factor responsible for most cases of the Duchenne type. If an accurate test can be developed it would then be possible to predict which female relatives of patients with this type of muscular dystrophy would pass on the disease to their sons.

ments prompted Councilman D. J. Carpenter to reply that one of the lights at Northridge Road, Pickaway St. and Atwater Ave, could be removed and placed at Ohio and Washington. He said money could be made available for the change.

However, Fissell hinted that the lights are still needed at the Northridge-Pickaway-Atwater intersection.

The discussion ended when Councilman Robert Hedges suggested the matter be referred to Council's Safety Committee. He also recommended a study be made to determine exactly where traffic lights are needed and where perhaps they are not.

In other business the solons adopted a resolution naming Harry Clifton Jr. to serve on an estimating board relative to assessments for Circleville Sewer District No. 2. He replaces Charles H. Radcliff.

Radcliff, named to the board two weeks ago, was ruled ineligible because he owns real estate within the sewer district. Other members of the board are Paul Johnson and George Barnes.

One of two ordinances passed authorized the purchase of an easement for Sanitary Sewer District No. 2. The rights will be acquired from John Himrod at a cost of $40.

THE MEASURE also obligates the city to keep McHenry Ditch dredged and cleaned for the distance that it passes through the owner's land to Hargus Creek and for maintenance of a levee for the same distance along the west side of the ditch.

It was pointed out that proper cleaning of the ditch is necessary for operation of the city's sewer system within the area.

The second ordinance provided for the transfer of $965.17 from the waterworks operating fund for the purchase of Bond No. 310 of the issue of first mortgage water revenue bonds of the Water Department.

Hott, treasurer of the club, was absent when the officers' pictures were taken.

sassination and suspicious of an international move against him in the Organization of American States. His foes say the moment his 1957 mandate expires he will be in the presidency illegally and that Venezuela and the Dominican Republic are prepared to withdraw diplomatic recognition. Other nations would be expected to follow, isolating Duvalier.

Almost certainly there would be violence. Moderates among Duvalier's foes are not united. The extreme leftist element, however small, is organized, informants report. Communists are among the student groups attempting to touch off violence and seize the leadership.

Duvalier's sudden departure could leave the poverty-stricken nation, 90 per cent of whose people cannot read or write, on the edge of civil war.

The army, distrustful by Duvalier, is poor in weapons. The arms are in the hands of Duvalier's militia, a semi-military organization the president uses to suppress internal opposition.

A struggle for power involving the army and the militia would leave the country vulnerable to operations from outside.

Castroite elements inside Haiti likely would join forces quickly with infiltrators in a strike for power. Communists already in powerful positions would help them, the informants report.

Hijacked Ship Is Awaited At Amazon Port of Macapa

BELEM Brazil (AP) — With Brazilian authorities in control, the hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui sailed slowly today toward the Amazon port of Macapa, last stop in her week's forced run at gunpoint.

The freighter's pro-Communist captors, disarmed Tuesday night without a fight, faced detention as guests of the Brazilian navy while diplomats wrangled over their fate.

Ordination Of Pacifist Is Set Aside

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Presbytery of Cincinnati has set aside the ordination of the Rev. Maurice F. McCrackin, a controversial pacifist who has served a prison sentence for refusing to pay income tax.

The presbytery's action Tuesday night apparently finished its long dispute with the 57-year-old clergyman. However, McCrackin still has a congregation — the Community Church of Cincinnati he formed last summer after the presbytery declared vacant his pulpit at the West Cincinnati-St. Barnabas Church.

That action came after the church's general assembly had upheld his earlier suspension for defying civil law by refusing to pay federal income taxes.

McCrackin contends no true Christian can pay income tax because part of it is used for warlike purposes. He was convicted in 1958 for failure to heed an Internal Revenue Service summons to discuss his taxes and was sentenced to six months in prison. He was released in 1959 and still refuses to pay income tax.

10 Warren County Boys Under House Arrest

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Ten Warren County youths are under house arrest while Juvenile Court decides how to punish them for knocking down dozens of rural mailboxes.

The terms of the house arrest are that they may not drive motor vehicles and must return home immediately after classes at Little Miami High School.

The youths, ages 16 and 17, were rounded up Friday night and Monday morning.

At Macapa, a port on the north side of the Amazon Delta 230 miles northwest of Belem, the freighter was to be returned to its owners—the Venezuelan government shipping company—after officials transferred the hijackers to a Brazilian destroyer escort. The Brazilian navy said the terrorists would be brought to the naval base in Belem and held incommunicado.

The hijackers, who seized the freighter in a dramatic bid to discredit Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt's anti-Communist government, requested asylum in Brazil. The Venezuelan government demanded their return for trial as criminals.

Brazilian authorities said the captors would be treated as political refugees until the Foreign Ministry decides their future. They indicated asylum will be granted if the offenses against the Venezuelan government are considered political and no Brazilian law was broken.

The hijackers failed in their chief aim, to force Betancourt to cancel his trip to Washington. The Venezuelan president arrived there Tuesday for talks with President Kennedy and expressed confidence that the hijacking had not shaken his liberal, anti-Communist government.

Terrorists at home continued their war on Betancourt's regime with a series of robberies and shootings in Caracas and Maracaibo.

Shrine Club Installs New Officers

Approximately 50 couples were present to greet illustrious Potentate, Clarence W. "Dolly" England of Aladdin Temple, and Mrs. England, at the annual Pickaway Shrine Club Installation Dinner held at Tinks Tavern.

Durward D. Dowden, retiring president, introduced illustrious Potentate England who gave a review of Shrine activities and urged members of the local club to carry on the crippled children's program "with renewed vigor."

Illustrious Potentate England was accompanied by two members of his Divan, Dr. Robert Hedges and Ernest J. Roush, and their wives.

Retiring president Dowden in his review of the local club activities for the past year announced that the Pickaway Shrine Club contributed $1,650 to the Aladdin Crippled Children's Hospital fund during 1962.

The local officers for 1963 installed by illustrious Potentate England are, Lloyd E. Minor, president; L. Robert Liston Jr., vice president; Joseph C. Peters, secretary and Harold R. Hott, treasurer.

The club directors, who will serve during 1963 are, Paul W. Armstrong, Robert W. Wood, Ray Reid, W. E. Christopher, James Ford and Durward D. Dowden.

Lloyd E. Minor, the new president, announced the appointment of Donald Strous as chaplain and Earl W. Palm as sergeant-at-arms and his committees for the year.

One of the evening's highlights was the presentation of a gavel to the club by vice president Liston made from a piece of wood from the famous Logan Elm. The gavel was made by Mrs. Liston's father, Fred Boggs.

Aladdin's "Little German Band" under the direction of Dr. Robert Hedges, provided the entertainment.

David S. Craven, chairman of the Reception Committee, assisted by Mrs. Craven, used a St. Valentine's Day theme in identifying the women present.

Coal Mining Acids Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — A research program to devise new techniques for reducing acid water drainage from coal mining operations will be undertaken by the Bureau of Mines in cooperation with the Coal Industry Advisory Committee, Ohio River Valley Sanitation Commission ORSANCO.

A cooperative agreement between the Department of the Interior and the industry committee to carry out such a study was signed today. The commission has headquarters in Cincinnati.

The Ohio River Valley has been faced with rapidly growing acid water problems, a spokesman for the Interior Department said. He said the research project will attempt to develop and evaluate techniques for sealing off openings in underground mines to prevent acid pollution of streams.

6 State Hospital Aides Are Accused in Probe

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Six employees of Hawthorned State Hospital have been released on $200 bond after pleading innocent in Cuyahoga Falls Municipal Court to charges of inducing and assisting female inmates to escape from the mental hospital.

The six were arrested Tuesday as the result of an investigation started by the Ohio Highway Patrol last December after hospital authorities learned some women inmates were taken out "on dates" for periods ranging from a few hours to a week.

Anniversary Showing Set by Children's Shop

The Children's Shop at 151 W. Main St. will celebrate its tenth anniversary tomorrow with a spring and summer trunk showing from 3 to 9 p. m. at the store.

Also scheduled as a part of the anniversary celebration is the opening of a third room of the Deb Shop, to be called The Country Store.

This room will be an extension of the junior department.

Mrs. Dorothy E. Jonnes and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boggs opened the shop Feb. 21, 1953, carrying infants' and children's clothing through all pre school sizes for both boys and girls.

The original store was housed in one room at the present location. After about two years, the girl's wear department was expanded and a boys department was added in a second room.

In 1958 the adjoining property at 149 W. Main St. was acquired and plans for the Deb Shop were started. In the spring of 1959 the front room of the Deb Shop was opened, carrying teen sizes for girls.

In the fall of 1962 a second room was remodeled to better accommodate the junior department. Dotie Boggs assumed the management of the Deb Shop during the summer of 1962.

A "Teen Board" was formed in September to help in the teen department.

Members of the board are Sandy Ward, Lynn Reichelderfer, Elaine Hutzelman and Patti Hines.

Their duties include acting as hostesses at store functions and serving as models for new style showings.

The management of the shop is a family affair. Mabel Ice and Lois Burtner are employed as full time clerks, and Kelly Anderson, a student at Circleville High School, is a part time clerk.

Youth Council Eyes Trip to Legislature

Preliminary plans for a tour of the Ohio Legislature were discussed when the Pickaway County Farm Bureau Youth Council met last night at Logan Elm School.

The tour, set for Mar. 6, was outlined by Ed Johnson, Farm Bureau organization director. Approximately 38 members were present for the session.

James Harrah, vice chairman of the Southeast Region Youth Cabinet, described a one-day conference scheduled Mar. 16 at Sheridan High School in Perry County. Several members of the local organization are slated to attend.

President Barbara Dudleson directed a discussion concerning a Youth Council Spring Banquet and dance scheduled in April.

2 Perry Twp. Youths Appear Before Judge

Two Perry Twp. juveniles appeared before Juvenile Judge Guy Cline Friday on charges of malicious destruction of property.

The juveniles, ages 16 and 17, were charged by Deputy Sheriff Gene Kerns with the destruction of two caution lights at a highway construction site. The 16-year-old was sentenced to six months detention with five months suspended. He was ordered to perform public work detail for five months.

The 17-year-old was given a 12 month sentence with ten months suspended and ordered to perform public work for five months.

A case against a 17-year-old New Holland youth, charged with breaking and entering was transferred to Fayette County for disposition.

Seven children of a local couple were certified by the court to the Pickaway County Child Welfare Board for placement. The children ranged in ages from 3 to 16 years. Charges were filed against the parents for neglecting the minor children.

Jimmie D. Wolfe, 17, Route 4, Chillicothe, appeared on a traffic violation filed by the State Highway Patrol. The case was referred to Ross County juvenile authorities.

Stock Market Prices Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices slipped early this afternoon in an extension of the easier trend that set in late Monday.

The market averages showed declines roughly approaching the setback for Tuesday's entire session.

Most losses ranged from fractions to a dollar a share with scattered steeper falls. Trading was moderate.

At noon The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 1.0 at 257.7. Industrials were off 2.0, rails down .4 and utilities were unchanged.

The approaching holiday weekend was cited as one factor leading to investor hesitation. Major exchanges will shut down Friday, Washington's Birthday.

No major section of the market was able to buck the downturn.

Circleville Youth Injured in Accident

Charles LeVan, 17, 476 Dearborn Ave., received contusions and abrasions to his left arm in a one-car auto accident on the Yanketown-Dawson Road yesterday. LeVan will be cited to appear in juvenile court.

He was treated and released from the Berger Hospital emergency room.

Youngster Treated

Berger Hospital staff members administered emergency treatment yesterday to an 11-year old youth who suffered a laceration of the arm. He was released.

Dennis Hollis, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Paul Hollis, 218 Watt St., pushed his right arm through a glass window.

An estimated 1.7 million children are attending school in obsolete and unsatisfactory facilities, the U.S. Office of Education reveals.

Better Health Through Knowledge

Q. I recently heard my college daughter talking to a boy about sex-linked heredity. I was absolutely shocked! Can you advise me privately what this is all about? I want to have a talk with that young lady!

A. Before you do any talking, brush up on your science. The kids were no doubt discussing some new and exciting developments in genetics. Every cell in the human body contains 23 pairs of chromosomes (rod-like structures) which carry hereditary factors (genes). Normally, both male and female have 22 pairs of autosomes plus one pair of "sex" chromosomes consisting of two X chromosomes in the female, . . . one X and one Y in the male. Sex-linked heredity usually implies that the trait is due to a gene carried by an X ("sex") chromosome. Clear? If not, perhaps you should have a talk with your daughter . . . but you do the listening!

MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY

Q. I have two brothers who are victims of muscular dystrophy. Can the disease be inherited? If so, would my children be afflicted even though I show no signs of the disease?

A. Muscular dystrophy has been defined as genetically determined primary degenerative myopathy. In other words, an inherited disorder of the muscles. There are several varieties of the disease. One, the Duchenne type, occurs almost exclusively in young boys and is inherited as a sex-linked recessive character. Efforts are now being made to identify female carriers of the inheritable factor responsible for most cases of the Duchenne type. If an accurate test can be developed it would then be possible to predict which female relatives of patients with this type of muscular dystrophy would pass on the disease to their sons.

Washington's Monument

Although the name Washington is attached to an important state and to countless cities, counties and townships — and to principal streets in nearly every city all the way across the nation — the national capital was not named for George Washington, the 231st anniversary of whose birth will be observed on Feb. 22, until after his death in 1799.

Originally, Washington, D. C., was called the Federal City. Not until 10 days after Washington's death at Mt. Vernon did Congress adopt a resolution to the effect that a monument in tribute to the Republic's first President be erected in "the city of Washington."

In true American fashion, the cumbersome expression "City of Washington" was transformed into "Washington's City." Hence, in a few years after the father of his country had been laid to rest, the apostrophe and the word city were dropped and the Republic's capital became known simply as Washington.

First government building to be erected in the Federal City, as planned by George Washington and Major L'Enfant, was the Capitol. Next was the executive mansion. Both were constructed of Virginia sandstone, somewhat reddish in color. But after British troops during the War of 1812 partially burned these buildings they were painted white to cover the scars left by the fires.

The Capitol remained the Capitol, but the executive mansion had its name changed by common usage to the White House.

The structure within the capital city which more than any other gives the Republic's capital an air of distinction unmatched by any capital city on the globe is the Washington monument. The resolution proposing that a monument be built was passed in 1799. Eighty-five years later it was completed. And four more years elapsed before it was opened to the public.

Its cornerstone was laid with elaborate ceremonies on July 4, 1848, in the presence of many honored guests, among whom were the widows of James Madison, John Quincy Adams and Alexander Hamilton, the last named being 91 at the time.

Construction had reached a height of only 152 feet by 1877, largely because of foundation troubles and the uncertain days during and after the Civil War. Congress finally turned the job over to Army engineers, who pushed it through to completion.

And there this symbol of Washington's moral character and integrity stands today, 555 feet, 5 1-8 inches above the ground. Each state has placed a stone of its own along the stairway of 898 steps. Thus, in Washington's honor, was erected a guide post to destiny.

'Age of Irresponsibility'

A woman bled to death from injuries suffered in a car accident near San Antonio, Tex. Her husband tried for nine hours (10 p. m. to 7 a. m.) to get passing motorists to stop and help him get her out of the wreckage and to a hospital. Doctors told him that her life could have been saved.

What is bothersome about this, in addition to the tragic outcome, is what it seems to reveal about a change in attitude showing increasingly among Americans. More and more are tending toward "non-involvement" — a defensive attitude of not letting themselves get trapped into doing something for somebody else.

"It's not my responsibility," many say. "Let somebody else do it." This trend extends to community affairs, state affairs, national affairs. Americans are becoming calloused, hardened to crime, traffic deaths, wastage of public funds, the antics of "gimme" politicians — all the evils on the public scene.

Will this become known as the "Age of Irresponsibility"?

Annoying Trait

It is difficult not to be concerned about the faults other people have. Finger nail biting, for instance, and spitting.

Of all the faults, however, none is so revolting as the habit of saying "I told you so." Some people we know have this habit. They have been telling everyone within shouting distance that they knew all along events to the proverbial "T".

This trait in others is particularly annoying to those of us who are usually

Stranger Will Wear Cow Bell

By JOY STILLEY
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—The next time I plan to meet someone I don't know by sight for lunch, I intend to make sure we'll recognize each other.

My hat will be trimmed in neon lights and I'll sport a rose between my teeth. And I'll request that the party of the second part make her entrance on roller skates and carry a cowbell.

Then maybe I won't repeat the tragedy of errors that marked my last luncheon date in a midtown restaurant.

It all started when my husband met—in line of duty, he claimed—a charming feminine member of a public relations staff and suggested that she call me and arrange a meeting.

In due time she telephoned me and we agreed to get together. "How will I know you?" I inquired.

"I'll make reservations and whoever gets there first can just sit down at the table and wait for the other," she replied.

That was fine. It was only after she hung up that I realized the reservations would be in her name and all I could remember was that her first name was Pat. I didn't panic because I knew my husband could supply the last name—after all, he had met her, hadn't he?

It turned out I knew more of her name than he did, but he finally succumbed to my pleas and phoned her office, where someone on the switchboard reported her name was Pat Hanson. All at last, was well.

On the appointed day I presented myself at the restaurant and requested to be seated at Miss Hanson's table. I was guided to a booth where a lone lady awaited me.

After greeting each other effusively we settled back to chat and

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

BACK IN THE rugged—and romantic—days of railroad-ing in our country, a circus train was flagged down on a siding of the Santa Fe. Three elephants managed to get their trunks, unnoticed, into the tender tank, and used up all the water giving themselves a shower. The train was stalled—until an ingenious mahout named O'Reilly uncoupled the engine and made the elephants tow it three miles down the track to a water tower.

I recall another story about the Santa Fe Railroad. It concerned a clergyman in a remote New Mexico town who rushed down to the station every evening to watch the Super-Chief whiz by. There was no chore he wouldn't interrupt to carry out this ritual.

Members of the minister's congregation deemed his eccentricity juvenile and frivolous, and asked him to give it up. "No, gentlemen," he replied firmly. "I preach your sermons, teach you Sunday school, bury your dead, marry you, run your charities, chairman every drive it pleases you to conduct. I won't give up seeing that Santa Fe train every evening. I love it. It's the only thing that passes through this town that I don't have to push."

Play Producer Max Gordon recalls in his new autobiography the morning he instructed his secretary to locate a certain brash comedian who was working on the road. She returned to report, "He died in Kansas City last night." To which Gordon sighed, "He always did!"

Guide to Better Health

By HARRY J. JOHNSON, M. D.

Generally alcohol, intelligently used, will not harm your health. Dr. Hans Selye, director of the Montreal Institute of Experimental Medicine, frequently advises persons to have at least one drink a day. He believes that stress is the principal underlying cause of many of man's most serious ailments, and he feels that an occasional drink, as an effective relaxant, is useful against stress.

I myself have long felt that there is a definite benefit in a before-dinner alcoholic beverage. However, I advise that all understand the effects of an alcoholic beverage on the brain. It doesn't matter whether you take it straight, on the rocks, or in a mixed drink. Only the strength and amount of the alcohol that reaches your brain will determine what happens to you, whether you become merely gay or completely "pickled". Alcohol is not a stimulant, not a pick-me-up. It is a sedative, let you down. If you take too much alcohol, you will see a dramatic proof of its sedative effect — you'll pass out cold, just as if you were sedated with an anesthetic.

I tell the patients to whom I prescribe a before-dinner drink to make it tall and well-diluted drink of about one and a half ounces of whiskey, rum or gin. Since it is the effect of the alcohol that is important, it does not matter whether the drink is bourbon, Scotch, or rye.

I tell the lady of the house not to have dinner ready until papa has been home at least half an hour and has sipped his drink. Let him take his time with it so that when he sits down to dinner he will feel relaxed.

How do you determine scientifically whether or not a drinker is intoxicated, or even whether one man may be drunker than another? To eliminate the contradictions of human observation, science has established certain technical standards to meet this problem. These standards consist of measuring the amount of alcohol in the blood.

The measuring is done by calculating how much alcohol there is in the blood stream and then, by mathematical extrapolation, relating this to the amount of alcohol that actually would be in the brain. The amount of alcohol in the blood may be measured either directly from a blood sample or indirectly from a sample of alcohol-laden breath. The result is expressed as a percentage of alcohol in the blood.

The widely accepted standards are these:

1. If you have .05 per cent alcohol in your blood, it is presumed that you are not drunk.
2. If your blood contains between .10 and .15 per cent alcohol, the police presume that you are drunk, although if a traffic violation is involved, they may need additional evidence to prove that you were incapable of operating your car safely.
3. If your blood contains over .15 per cent alcohol, it is assumed, without question, that you are quite drunk and not capable of doing anything safely or rationally.

Two 'No' Men in Washington

By John Chamberlain

It is possible to be a "no man" in Washington these days and still manage to keep one's footing along with one's integrity? The weight of the evidence is supposed to be against it. But every so often an official comes along to create such an image of incorruptibility that nobody dares touch him.

One man who has successfully managed to put himself above "politics" is the Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, William McChesney Martin, Jr. Another is the head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, J. Edgar Hoover. Both Mr. Martin and Mr. Hoover have managed to stay on through Democratic and Republican regimes — and no responsible President would ever lightly interfere with the way they run their respective bailiwicks.

Long ago Mr. Martin said his philosophy of setting Federal Reserve policy was to "lean against the wind." When inflation threatens, he turns tight-fisted in the matter of making credit available. When deflation is with us, he relaxes the "Fed's" clamp on the money supply. He seldom encounters any trouble with his policy when the nation is on the downbeat of the economic cycle. But when the government goes in for conscious inflation he always risks a tiff with the White House.

He is risking trouble right now in his attitude toward the proposed 11-plus billion dollar deficit for the coming fiscal year. Said he recently: "I want to put the Federal Reserve specifically on record. . . that I think we must not finance a deficit by bank-created funds, that how the deficit is financed is of vital importance, and that it should be financed out of bona fide savings and not by writing up assets on one side or the other of bank ledgers." In spite of the suspicion of Administration budgetary policy implied in these stern words, President Kennedy announced last week that "no man" Martin would be reappointed to head the "Fed" for a fourth four-year term.

Technically, J. Edgar Hoover receives his appointment as boss of the FBI from the Attorney General. But no Attorney General would dare fire him without first clearing it with the White House. So exemplary has Mr. Hoover been that he has survived in Washington since Calvin Coolidge's time. Every once in a while the Communists decide to "get" Mr. Hoover. The word goes out — and shortly the incomprehending "liberals" begin to reflect the Communist-inspired anti-Hoover sentiments without realizing the source. Books are written to discredit the FBI as a potential "Gestapo." And so the anti-Hoover campaign goes on until it runs up against the plain fact that J. Edgar Hoover has never perverted his power to corrupt ends.

Usually it is a liberal who rises up to defend Mr. Hoover against the innuendos of others on the so-called liberal team. Once the American Civil Liberties Union, egged on by well-meaning dupes of the Communists, looked into charges that the FBI was making use of third-degree tactics. But when the investigation was completed, Roger Baldwin, then head of the Civil Liberties Union, reported that the charges had no basis in fact.

The most fervent tribute to Hoover's integrity as head of the FBI has come from Francis Biddle, a liberal who was Franklin Roosevelt's wartime Attorney General. In his recently published book of memoirs, "In Brief Authority," Biddle says of Hoover: "... he cares for power and more power, but unlike many men it is power bent to the purpose of his life's work — the success of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. External standards make the safest judge of character, and Hoover must be described in the light of his work. Can the reader recall any other American police force about which there has never been a breath of corruption? . . . I know his weaknesses — his passion for the limelight, his obsession with the Communists that tends to include his net fish that are hardly worth catching. . . But the limelight, so skillfully used, is an asset of his success, and his preachings to the Communists are not without value in our so easy-going American ideology. . . ."

Since inflation and the Communist conspiracy are obviously the two biggest current threats to the safety of America, it is lucky to have Washington's two most incorruptible public servants in position to face them down with a loud and resounding "no".

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Labor unrest is causing many business leaders today to review policies. General Motors, for example, says it's building up its steel stocks just in case.

Most reports from steel labor and management sources indicate small expectation of a strike this summer. There could be one if the steel workers choose to reopen the contract in a move to raise wages or fringe benefits, and if management refuses to budge from its stand on holding the cost line.

General Motors says it's only prudent to build up its stocks to around one million tons above current needs, so it wouldn't have to shut down right away in case of a strike.

This announcement set off a rise in steel stock prices, on the supposition other companies might follow suit, and steel mills have a bonanza, however short-lived.

With steel output still far below capacity and new orders coming in at only a modest rate, there ordinarily would seem to be every reason for both labor and management to avoid any showdown this year.

And neither side has been putting out belligerent statements, usually an indication of go-slow attitudes. Some observers have even doubted if the contract would be reopened at all in view of the sluggish market. Others feel it might be reopened for negotiations of minor fringe benefits.

This year, however, labor-management relations have turned touchy because of the dispute over automation. And steel workers may be just as edgy about that as any other segment of the labor force.

Such demands as the steel unions have been talking about have been tied to that issue—three months vacations every five years for older workers, longer vacations for others, shorter work weeks. All these are part of labor's general proposals for spreading the work to counteract automation.

And a number of this winter's strikes have been sparked and prolonged by proposals or fears of automation that would cut the number of jobs.

Management argues it must mechanize further because of rising labor costs or to compete with American or foreign rivals that have the latest machines. And it's finding it hard these days to raise prices to meet increased production costs.

Job security has become the hottest issue in labor circles. Some unions have struck to prevent automation or cuts in the work force assigned to any the piece of work. Many of the leaders are urging a cut in the length of the work week as the only way to combat unemployment right away.

The Kennedy administration opposes this, saying it would defeat the best way to create more jobs — getting the economic growth rate into high gear.

But neither labor nor management has accepted the administration ideas of how to accomplish this. And as the split in labor and management thinking on the problem widens, the uncertainty plays an increasingly larger role in business planning for the weeks and months ahead.

2 Akron Men Nabbed For Columbus Holdup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police continue to question two Akron men today about a holdup at the Buckeye Finance Co. on W. Broad St. here.

Held on investigation of armed robbery are James E. Edwards, 30, and Jack Longgood, also 30.

They were picked up by police just 15 minutes after two men entered the loan company late Tuesday afternoon and demanded money from a teller.

They fled with $5,760 dollars, but an alert customer got a description of the getaway car and phoned police.

Gifted, Disadvantaged Child Merits Special Education

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The child with talent and the child deprived by society must be equally the concern of public schools, Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina said today.

All human resources must be tapped in meeting the challenges of the space age, he said in a speech prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators.

Sanford said North Carolina is just beginning to seek out the gifted child. Special classes last year had over 2,000 students, he said.

"This year we have more than 5,000, and the trend should be to double each year until we include all who have unusual ability," the governor asserted.

He cited special needs of children from rural or slum areas which have not kept pace with the rest of society.

"The schools in which such children find themselves must be adaptable to the children's needs," Sanford said.

"Too long we have put most of our best teachers in the classrooms of the privileged children; more of them should go in the classrooms of these disadvantaged children."

He suggested more pay for teachers in such schools, missionary zeal in teacher colleges, improved testing and guidance programs, and more attention to vocational training in schools serving disadvantaged areas.

"Maybe the school in the disadvantaged area must become the center and focal point and position of leadership for all of the forces of the community capable of contributing to the solutions of ignorance, delinquency, crime, poverty, and wasted lives," Sanford said.

Bernard Kelmer, principal of Furness Junior High School in Philadelphia, said in a speech prepared for the convention that the plight of America's slum children is a national emergency that may become a national calamity.

He said "most of the current attempts to meet the needs of the culturally deprived pupil represent little more than a mopping of the floor without bothering to turn off the faucet."

What is needed, he said, is "a shaking to the very roots of our present methods of conducting schools."

"We delude ourselves into believing we are providing equal opportunity while we spend twice as many educational dollars on the suburban child as the slum child," Kilmer said.

"It is not a question of the talented versus the stupid," he said. "The discoverer of the cure for cancer may now reside in a tenement."

Prisoners in Vandalia Certain To Come Clean

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—Prisoners in the Vandalia jail are going to come clean if city councilmen have anything to do with it.

Councilmen approved a plumbing bid for installation of a shower booth in the rear of the jail, for the prisoners' use.

"It is more for the benefit of the police than it is for the prisoners," commented City Manager Robert Kipp.

2 Akron Men Nabbed For Columbus Holdup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police continue to question two Akron men today about a holdup at the Buckeye Finance Co. on W. Broad St. here.

Held on investigation of armed robbery are James E. Edwards, 30, and Jack Longgood, also 30.

They were picked up by police just 15 minutes after two men entered the loan company late Tuesday afternoon and demanded money from a teller.

They fled with $5,760 dollars, but an alert customer got a description of the getaway car and phoned police.

During 1962, 88 million pounds of shrimp were caught in the Gulf of Mexico.

Gifted, Disadvantaged Child Merits Special Education

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The child with talent and the child deprived by society must be equally the concern of public schools, Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina said today.

All human resources must be tapped in meeting the challenges of the space age, he said in a speech prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators.

Sanford said North Carolina is just beginning to seek out the gifted child. Special classes last year had over 2,000 students, he said.

"This year we have more than 5,000, and the trend should be to double each year until we include all who have unusual ability," the governor asserted.

He cited special needs of children from rural or slum areas which have not kept pace with the rest of society.

"The schools in which such children find themselves must be adaptable to the children's needs," Sanford said.

"Too long we have put most of our best teachers in the classrooms of the privileged children; more of them should go in the classrooms of these disadvantaged children."

He suggested more pay for teachers in such schools, missionary zeal in teacher colleges, improved testing and guidance programs, and more attention to vocational training in schools serving disadvantaged areas.

"Maybe the school in the disadvantaged area must become the center and focal point and position of leadership for all of the forces of the community capable of contributing to the solutions of ignorance, delinquency, crime, poverty, and wasted lives," Sanford said.

Bernard Kelmer, principal of Furness Junior High School in Philadelphia, said in a speech prepared for the convention that the plight of America's slum children is a national emergency that may become a national calamity.

He said "most of the current attempts to meet the needs of the culturally deprived pupil represent little more than a mopping of the floor without bothering to turn off the faucet."

What is needed, he said, is "a shaking to the very roots of our present methods of conducting schools."

"We delude ourselves into believing we are providing equal opportunity while we spend twice as many educational dollars on the suburban child as the slum child," Kilmer said.

"It is not a question of the talented versus the stupid," he said. "The discoverer of the cure for cancer may now reside in a tenement."

Prisoners in Vandalia Certain To Come Clean

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—Prisoners in the Vandalia jail are going to come clean if city councilmen have anything to do with it.

Councilmen approved a plumbing bid for installation of a shower booth in the rear of the jail, for the prisoners' use.

"It is more for the benefit of the police than it is for the prisoners," commented City Manager Robert Kipp.

Monday Club Hears History Of Ohio Music, Composers

A program on Ohio music and composers and the presentation of a slate of new officers were on the agenda when the Monday Club met this week at the Memorial Hall. Mrs. George Barnes presided.

The slate of officers for 1963-1964 was presented by Mrs. R. R. Bales, chairman of the nominating committee. Accepted were Mrs. David Fullen, president; Mrs. Cleon Webb, 1st. vice-president; Mrs. James Reichelderfer, 2nd. vice president; Mrs. Jacques Sweeney, recording secretary; Mrs. George Swoers, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Anna Chandler, historian; and Mrs. Frank Morrison, member at large. Program committee — Miss Jessie Cummings, chairman; Mrs. James Sampson, Mrs. William Sprague and Miss Eleanor Snyder, music chairman.

Mrs. Martin Cromley, presented "The History of Ohio Music and Composers." The narrative was interspersed with colored slides relative to the different composers.

Mrs. Cromley said "until not so long ago it was fashionable among musical sophisticates to speak of American music with an air of knowing condescension. We have heard them say we have delightful music with our Stephen Foster, Mac Dowell, Victor Herbert, but have we produced a Bach or Beethoven? Fortunately that music crisis has become rarer."

Public interest in our native music has grown by leaps and bounds, Mrs. Cromley said. Leading conductors and soloists have begun to feature works of young American composers, as well as more traditional music. People are beginning to take pride in national culture, she added.

Ohio's Musical History overlaps and blends with the final years of America's so-called "first-period" of 150 to 180 years. Two types of music which came westward out of the colonial century were the psalm tune and the singing school. Early teachers in singing schools were apt to be ministers, doctors or shopkeepers. Benjamin Hanby was a preacher before becoming a song writer."

Mrs. Cromley went on to say, "Benjamin Russell Hanby, 1835-1887, born in Rushville, O. buried in Otterbein Cemetery, Westerville, was a preacher, school master, composer and best known as the writer of "Darling Nellie Gray". The Hanby home near Rushville was a station of the Underground Railroad and became known as the "House of Brotherhood". The father, Bishop Hanby, related to his children the story of an escaping slave, Joseph Selby by name, who took refuge from Kentucky in the Hanby House in 1842 and before his death there from pneumonia, told of his sweetheart Nelly Gray who had been sold into Georgia.

Years later Ben Hanby incorporated this story in the song we all know. His song "Up on the Housetops" was written in the winter of 1864 for some Ohio children in a time of sadness and tragedy of the Civil War."

The next composer mentioned by Mrs. Cromley was Edward Gould Mead, now located at Miami University, Oxford, O. His compositions include organ solos and choral works.

Mrs. C. H. Morris, — 1862-1929, a hymn writer, was born April 15, 1862 in Pennsville, Morgan County, O. Her musical talent showed up early in life when as a small child she learned to sing and play the reed organ. Around 1914, she began to lose her eyesight, rapidly becoming blind, but with the aid of her daughter, Mrs. Fannie Lunk, she continued to write her beloved songs. Some of her best known gospel songs are: "The Fight is On", "Let Jesus Come into your Heart", "At the Battle's Front", "Sweeter as the Years Go By", "Nearer Still Nearer" and "The Stranger of Galle." Will L. Thompson, born in East Liverpool, was a famous hymn writer, who wrote more than 200 hymns, the most famous being "Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling."

Oley Speaks was born June 28, 1876 in Canal Winchester, O. He and his family lived many years in Columbus. He was a boy soprano in the First Congregational Church at the age of nine. He became a protege of Dr. Washington Gladden. As a composer he had a natural and versatile gift for melody and attributes much of his success to simplicity of expression. Among his best known compositions are: "To You", "On the Road to Mandalay", "Sylvia" and "Morning".

Daniel Decatur Emmett was born Oct. 29, 1815 in Mt. Vernon, Knox County, O., and passed away June 28, 1904 in Mt. Vernon. He was a song writer and pioneer in minstrels, chiefly known as the composer of "Dixie." The famous song originally called "I Wish I Was in Dixie's Land" was written overnight and had its first public performance in New York, having been composed the day previous.

Emmett, known as Uncle Dan, was not a colored man as some have said. Two of his better known songs are "Turkey in the Straw" and "Old Dan Tucker", named after himself and his dog Tucker.

Tell Taylor, Findlay's own song writer who created the everlasting ballad "Down by the Old Mill Stream", was born Oct. 28, 1876 on a farm near Van Lue, O. He was the first school teacher in Hancock County to add music to the country school curriculum.

Before his magic pen was still he had written more than 200 songs. One of his favorites was "Rock Me to Sleep in the Old Rocking Chair." This song, born of a toothache and a memory, was his favorite. He was coming home one night when he suffered a throbbing, jumping toothache.

He remembered how his mother rocked him to sleep and lulled away the pain of a boyhood toothache in other days. A short time later in a dentist's office he wrote

Ernest R. Ball, was born in 1879 in Cleveland, O. and was frequently called the "American Fosti." He selected a career as a concert pianist but fate decreed that he was to become one of America's outstanding composers during his short life span of 49 years. dead body he'd buy another woman a red silk slip. He said I was narrowminded and a poor sport, but I held my ground and he finally bought her a nice bottle of cologne instead. He still throws it up to me that I was a poor sport. Is it proper for a man to buy intimate apparel for someone other than his wife, or was I a poor sport?

JEN
DEAR JEN: Tell your husband that you are frankly jealous and admit to being a poor sport when it comes to his buying lingerie for other women. He'll love your for it. And I'll bet he shuts up.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for telling that woman not to complain because her husband never said "I love you," that talk was cheap, and if he supported her and behaved himself, she should be satisfied. I left my husband some years ago because all he said was "I love you"—but before we had been married a year, he had broken every rule in the book. And "I love you" were still ringing in my ears, he was bouncing me off every wall in the house. SICK OF "I LOVE YOU"

DEAR ABBY: If you go to a prom with a very nice, but very shy, boy and at intermission he invites another couple to go for a ride with you, and the other couple is very mushy and they are sitting in the back seat necking like there is no tomorrow and the boy who is necking yells to your date that he had better hurry up and kiss you or he will show him how—what are you supposed to do? (That's not a very good sentence but that is what happened to me and it was very embarrassing.)

SOPHOMORE
DEAR SOPHOMORE: You are supposed to pretend you are deaf. And if your date gets flustered, turn up the radio and drown out the cheering action.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Tell Taylor, Findlay's own song writer who created the everlasting ballad "Down By the Old Mill Stream", was born Oct. 28, 1876 on a farm near Van Lue, O. He was the first school teacher in Hancock County to add music to the country school curriculum.

Before his magic pen was still, he had written more than 200 songs. One of his favorites was "Rock Me to Sleep in the Old Rocking Chair". This song, born of a toothache and a memory, was his favorite. He was coming home one night when he suffered a throbbing, jumping toothache.

He remembered how his mother rocked him to sleep and lulled away the pain of a boyhood toothache in other days. A short time later in a dentist's office he wrote the song.

Ernest R. Ball, was born in 1879 in Cleveland, O. and was frequently called the "American Fosti." He selected a career as a concert pianist but fate decreed that he was to become one of America's outstanding composers during his short life span of 49 years.

Many of his ballads had an Irish flavor, including "Mother McChree", "When Irish Eyes are Smiling". Other hits were "Love Me and The World is Mine" and "Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold."

Years later Ben Hanby incorporated this story in the song we all know. His song "Up on the Housetops" was written in the winter of 1864 for some Ohio children in a time of sadness and tra-

Dear Abby: Tell Him Why, Lady!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been fighting about it ever since Christmas and I'd like it settled. The employees at his office exchanged names and each one put down what he (or she) wanted for Christmas. The girl whose name my husband drew put down she wanted a red silk slip! I told my husband that over my dead body he'd buy another woman a red silk slip. He said I was narrowminded and a poor sport, but I held my ground and he finally bought her a nice bottle of cologne instead. He still throws it up to me that I was a poor sport. Is it proper for a man to buy intimate apparel for someone other than his wife, or was I a poor sport?

JEN

DEAR JEN: Tell your husband that you are frankly jealous and admit to being a poor sport when it comes to his buying lingerie for other women. He'll love you for it. And I'll bet he shuts up.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for telling that woman not to complain because her husband never said "I love you," that talk was cheap, and if he supported her and behaved himself, she should be satisfied. I left my husband some years ago because all he said was "I love you"—but before we had been married a year, he had broken every rule in the book. And while his "I love you's" were still ringing in my ears, he was bounding me off every wall in the house. SICK OF "I LOVE YOU"

DEAR ABBY: If you go to a prom with a very nice, but very shy, boy and at intermission he invites another couple to go for a ride with you, and the other couple is very mushy and they are sitting in the back seat necking like there is no tomorrow and the boy who is necking yells to your date that he had better hurry up and kiss you or he will show him how—what are you supposed to do? (That's not a very good sentence but that is what happened to me and it was very embarrassing.)

SOPHOMORE

DEAR SOPHOMORE: You are supposed to pretend you are deaf. And if your date gets flustered, turn up the radio and drown out the cheering action.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Leftover baked ham in the refrigerator? Dice and add it to any creamed green vegetable — cabbage, snap beans, pears — and serve as a main dish for lunch. Sprinkle top with grated cheddar cheese.

Fresh bean sprouts may be cooked in a small amount of salted water just until they are slightly tender and still crisp — this takes only two or three minutes. The cooked sprouts are delightful used in a salad.

Energy Committee—on an individual basis, depending on what employees the chairman wants checked.

These committees, by their nature, are exposed to some of the most delicate government information. Therefore, their staff members might have access to it. In these investigations the FBI turns its information over to the committee chairman requesting it. He is the one who decides whether a staff employee should be retained or fired.

Then the information goes back to the FBI files for secrecy and safe-keeping. Otherwise, it might wind up being gossiped around the halls of Congress.

Last October President Kennedy signed a new law tightening and broadening the scope of existing conflict of interest regulations.

The major provision permanently bars former full-time federal employees from representing private interests before federal agencies on matters in which they took part personally and substantially before leaving government service.

Earlier law prohibited employees from handling claims against the government for a period of two years after the individual left government.

The new provisions disqualify former employees for one year from handling private business before an agency in matters for which they had higher responsibility but no personal involvement.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators and representatives have a special kind of life in government. A check, minor or major, is made on all employees of the executive branch for behavior or loyalty. The FBI checks all federal judges and district attorneys before they take office.

The White House requires FBI investigations of the men the president appoints to high office. Absolutely no check is made on members of Congress even though some of them in closed-door hearings hear highly secret information. For instance, members of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee.

There is no law saying members of Congress must be checked over. In the executive branch some checking is done on every employee and the FBI can be called in under presidential order going back to 1953.

Generally, the staffs in the various federal courts are not investigated although in some exceptional cases a judge may request one. Court employees are seldom, perhaps never, privy to secret government information involving national security.

While there's a law against letting present or former government employees sweeten their pocketbook because of their government connection — the conflict of interest law — no such law applies to members of Congress.

Thus a senator with a fortune in oil is free to plug for a bill that benefits the oil industry. He's not apt to brag that he has some self-interest in what he is doing. No check is made on the staffs of the 535 members of Congress — they run up into the thousands —

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Skies were mostly clear this morning over Central and Southern Ohio, but Northern Ohio was cloudy and light snow flurries were falling in the northeast counties.

Temperatures early today ranged from 28 at Cincinnati to 36 at Chesapeake.

Another cold air mass is moving toward Ohio, and its cold front will move southward through the state today, accompanied by cloudiness and light rain or snow flurries.

It will be rather windy today as the cold front approaches with wind speeds of 15 to 20 m.p.h.

No appreciable or measurable snowfall is expected over the state through Thursday, but temperatures by Thursday morning will drop into the teens or lower north and slightly higher in the central and south.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will average 10 to 15 degrees below normal. Normal high 41 - 50, normal low 24-28. Trend toward colder rest of week, continued cold over weekend. Precipitation will average one-tenth inch or less in frequent snow flurries mainly east.

Business Briefs

Results issued today by General Electric Co. on its operations for 1962 showed sales billed of $4,792,732,530, up eight per cent from 1961 sales billed of $4,456,815,169, and net earnings of $265,843,769, up 10 per cent from earnings for 1961 and equivalent to $2.97 a share of common stock.

In announcing the results, Chairman of the Board Ralph J. Cordiner said sales billed represent an all-time high for General Electric for the second successive year. Earnings for 1962 were the second best in company history. He stated that further details and information would be available when the company issues its annual report early in March to more than 500,000 share owners of record.

Sales of consumer goods and industrial equipment showed healthy gains over the prior year, while volume for defense sales and heavy capital goods increased moderately over 1961 sales volume. Sales of heavy capital goods were aided by particularly strong export volume, Cordiner reported.

Earnings did not follow sales to a record in 1962 mainly as the result of the continuing squeeze between increasing costs and depressed price, he said. "General Electric products on the average are now selling at price levels that prevailed in the 1953-1955 period, in spite of greatly improved product features and performance."

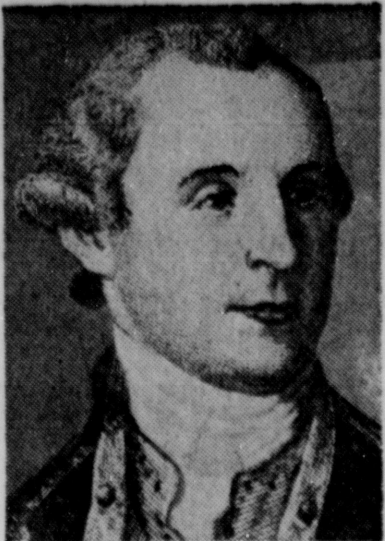

Improvement of earnings remains for General Electric, as for United States industry in general, a continuing challenge under these conditions, Cordiner stated. "In response to this challenge, the company has enlisted the competitive spirit of all General Electric employees in an 'Accent on Value' program which was announced at the annual meeting of share owners last April.

The outstanding efforts of employees in response to this program, enabling the company to offer customers superior values in terms of improved product features, quality and service, contributed notably to the improvement of 1962 operation results," the chairman said.

Mount Vernon, Washington's later home.

FIRST IN WAR, FIRST IN PEACE, BUT NOT FIRST HERE — George Washington, the father of his country, had romantic troubles just like a lot of us, this letter written May 20, 1752, indicates. It was penned to the father of Betsy Fauntleroy, 16, Naylor's Hole, Va. Washington was 20. Betsy turned him down a second time and married a man in Henrico County, Va. The letter, valued at $5,000, is a possession of the U. of Virginia.

Beatification for 2 U.S. Roman Catholics Approved

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Rites Congregation Tuesday approved the beatification of two American Roman Catholic figures, Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton and John M. Neumann, fourth bishop of Philadelphia.

Ceremonies for the beatifications were scheduled next month. Beatification frequently—but not always — is followed by the Church's highest honor, canonization, or sainthood.

Mother Seton, a convert to Catholicism, may become the United States' first native-born saint.

Born in New York in 1774, she turned after her husband's death to the education of youth and to charitable work. She founded the Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph in America and died in Emmitsburg, Md., in 1821.

Her beatification is scheduled March 17.

Bishop Neumann was born in Bohemia in 1811. After studying for the priesthood in Budweis, he came to America in 1836 and was ordained in New York.

Pope Pius IX named him bishop of Philadelphia in 1852. He died there in 1860.

His beatification is scheduled for March 19, the feast day of St. Joseph.

The way for the beatifications was cleared today as cardinals, prelates and theologians belonging to the Vatican's Congregation of Rites met with Pope John XXIII in the papal throne room.

Senate Ignores Lausche Protest

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate overrode the protest of Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, Tuesday to confirm 28-year-old Bill D. Moyers as $19,500-a-year deputy director of the Peace Corps.

Moyers, former associate director, and a fellow Texan and protégé of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, was approved by voice vote with Lausche and Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., shouting no.

Lausche said the salary paid Moyers, a one-time divinity student, is part of a "fantastic" hiring policy by the government.

"I'll not be a party to telling the youth of this country to get on the federal payroll and you will be in the grave for the rest of your life," the Ohio Democrat declared.

Taxi Chief's Slayer Is Handed Sentence

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert Hofman 58, a former dispatcher for the Yellow Cab Co., was convicted of first-degree manslaughter by a Common Pleas Court jury Tuesday night in the slaying of his supervisor at the company. Judge Thomas J. Parrino sentenced him to 1-20 years in Ohio Penitentiary.

Hofman was tried on a second-degree murder charge in the shooting of Joseph Neuman, 60, in the cab company offices Oct. 18.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators and representatives have a special kind of life in government. A check, minor or major, is made on all employees of the executive branch for behavior or loyalty. The FBI checks all federal judges and district attorneys before they take office.

The White House requires FBI investigations of the men the president appoints to high office. Absolutely no check is made on members of Congress even though some of them in closed-door hearings hear highly secret information. For instance, members of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee.

There is no law saying members of Congress must be checked over. In the executive branch some checking is done on every employee and the FBI can be called in under presidential order going back to 1953.

Generally, the staffs in the various federal courts are not investigated although in some exceptional cases a judge may request one. Court employees are seldom, perhaps never, privy to secret government information involving national security.

While there's a law against letting present or former government employees sweeten their pocketbook because of their government connection — the conflict of interest law — no such law applies to members of Congress.

Thus a senator with a fortune in oil is free to plug for a bill that benefits the oil industry. He's not apt to brag that he has some self-interest in what he is doing. No check is made on the staffs of the 535 members of Congress — they run up into the thousands.

5 Stills Confiscated In Ohio In January

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Liquor Director Donald D. Cook issued a report today saying enforcement agents had confiscated five stills during January, made 44 raids and 85 arrests for liquor violations. Of those arrested, local courts convicted 79 and levied penalties totaling $8,875 in fines and 540 days in jail sentences.

Energy Committee—on an individual basis, depending on what employees the chairman wants checked.

These committees, by their nature, are exposed to some of the most delicate government information. Therefore, their staff members might have access to it. In these investigations the FBI turns its information over to the committee chairman requesting it. He is the one who decides whether a staff employee should be retained or fired.

Then the information goes back to the FBI files for secrecy and safe-keeping. Otherwise, it might wind up being gossiped around the halls of Congress.

Last October President Kennedy signed a new law tightening and broadening the scope of existing conflict of interest regulations. The major provision permanently bars former full-time federal employees from representing private interests before federal agencies on matters in which they took part personally and substantially before leaving government service.

Earlier law prohibited employees from handling claims against the government for a period of two years after the individual left government.

The new provisions disqualify former employees for one year from handling private business before an agency in matters for which they had higher responsibility but no personal involvement.

Business Briefs

Results issued today by General Electric Co. on its operations for 1962 showed sales billed of $4,792,732,530, up eight per cent from 1961 sales billed of $4,456,815,169, and net earnings of $265,843,769, up 10 per cent from earnings for 1961 and equivalent to $2.97 a share of common stock.

In announcing the results, Chairman of the Board Ralph J. Cordiner said sales billed represent an all-time high for General Electric for the second successive year. Earnings for 1962 were the second best in company history. He stated that further details and information would be available when the company issues its annual report early in March to more than 500,000 share owners of record.

Sales of consumer goods and industrial equipment showed healthy gains over the prior year, while volume for defense sales and heavy capital goods increased moderately over 1961 sales volume. Sales of heavy capital goods were aided by particularly strong export volume, Cordiner reported.

Earnings did not follow sales to a record in 1962 mainly as the result of the continuing squeeze between increasing costs and depressed price, he said. "General Electric products on the average are now selling at price levels that prevailed in the 1953-1955 period, in spite of greatly improved product features and performance."

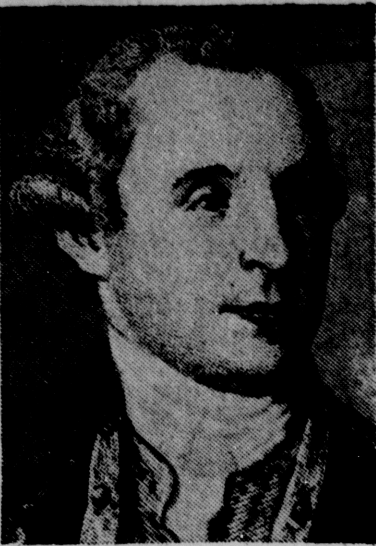

Improvement of earnings remains for General Electric, as for United States industry in general, a continuing challenge under these conditions, Cordiner stated. "In response to this challenge, the company has enlisted the competitive spirit of all General Electric employees in an 'Accent on Value' program which was announced at the annual meeting of share owners last April.

The outstanding efforts of employees in response to this program, enabling the company to offer customers superior values in terms of improved product features, quality and service, contributed notably to the improvement of 1962 operation results," the chairman said.

Rubber Union Plans Parleys with 3 Firms

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The United Rubber Workers Union said today it has served notices to reopen companywide negotiations with Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. and B. F. Goodrich Co.

Contracts with all three companies covering 50,000 workers expire April 20. The U.S. Rubber Co. agreement expires June 1 and a reopening notice is expected to be served shortly.

George Washington at age 25.

May 20, 1752

Sir
I should have been down long before this but my business in Frederick detained me somewhat longer than I expected and immediately upon my return from thence I was taken with a violent Pleurisy which has reduced me very low; but purpose as soon as I recover my strength, to wait on Miss Betsy, in hopes of a revocation of the former cruel sentence, and see if I can meet with any alteration in my favour—I have inclosed a letter to her which should be much obliged to you for the delivery of it. I have nothing to add but my best respects to your good Lady and Family and that I am Sir yr. most obedient Humble Servt.

G. Washington

This letter was written by George Washington to Miss Betsy Fauntleroy, 16, Naylor's Hole, Va. Washington was 20. Betsy turned him down a second time and married a man in Henrico County, Va. The letter, valued at $5,000, is a possession of the U. of Virginia.

Mount Vernon, Washington's later home.

FIRST IN WAR, FIRST IN PEACE, BUT NOT FIRST HERE — George Washington, the father of his country, had romantic troubles just like a lot of us, this letter written May 20, 1752, indicates. It was penned to the father of Betsy Fauntleroy, 16, Naylor's Hole, Va. Washington was 20. Betsy turned him down a second time and married a man in Henrico County, Va. Beatification for 2 U.S. Roman Catholics Approved

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Rites Congregation Tuesday approved the beatification of two American Roman Catholic figures, Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton and John M. Neumann, fourth bishop of Philadelphia.

Ceremonies for the beatifications were scheduled next month. Beatification frequently—but not always — is followed by the Church's highest honor, canonization, or sainthood.

Mother Seton, a convert to Catholicism, may become the United States' first native-born saint.

Born in New York in 1774, she turned after her husband's death to the education of youth and to charitable work. She founded the Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph in America and died in Emmitsburg, Md., in 1821.

Her beatification is scheduled March 17.

Bishop Neumann was born in Bohemia in 1811. After studying for the priesthood in Budweis, he came to America in 1836 and was ordained in New York.

Pope Pius IX named him bishop of Philadelphia in 1852. He died there in 1860.

His beatification is scheduled for March 19, the feast day of St. Joseph.

The way for the beatifications was cleared today as cardinals, prelates and theologians belonging to the Vatican's Congregation of Rites met with Pope John XXIII in the papal throne room.

With the Pope looking on but not voting, the cardinals and prelates approved formally two miracles proposed for the beatification of each figure. The approval of the miracles amounted to approval of the beatifications.

After they are beatified at glittering ceremonies in St. Peter's the two will merit the name "blessed."

Mother Seton will be the first native-born American to receive this honor.

Two further miracles must be approved for sainthood.

Bishop Neumann was first proposed for eventual canonization in 1896. Last July the Congregation of Rites expressed approval of two cases proposed as miracles for the bishop's beatification.

Motor Vehicle Registrations Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio motor vehicle registrations hit a record peak during the first 11 months of the registration year with a total of 4,731,818 units registered, State Auditor Roger W. Tracy reported today.

The registrations produced license tag fees totaling $79,057,446. In the corresponding period last year there were 4,548,342 registrations with license revenues of $77,385,936.

In the totals for current registrations, there were 3,794,697 passenger cars, up 123,670, or 67 per cent of the total rise of 183,476. Although general truck registrations totaled only 333,226, down 9,

Printing Numbers Slips Not Unconstitutional

LISBON, Ohio (AP)—The 7th District Court of Appeals overruled Tuesday a lower court's decision that Ohio's law against the printing of numbers slips is unconstitutional.

The state had appealed the earlier ruling throwing out a case against four officers of the Lisbon Sales Book Co. The four, all from Pittsburgh, were charged after then Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy led a raid against the firm Sept. 6, 1961.

047, the license revenues amounted to $29,663,553, up $38,226. Registrations of farm trucks totaling 97,014 showed an increase of 17,679 over the 11-month period last year.

NEW YORK (AP) — Business men are flying millions of miles yearly in company-owned planes to save time and money.

The growth of corporation flying since World War II has been phenomenal.

Some big companies have fleets that exceed those of commercial feeder airlines. Smaller companies often depend upon a single aircraft.

"I get the speed I need," says James Derderian, president of the 32-employee Merrimack Wood Products Co. of Lowell, Mass., who pilots his own plane on company business. "And when I call on a buyer or supplier I've already made a favorable impression for my company by pulling up in an airplane."

At the other end of the scale giant General Motors Corp. operates 20 planes.

"Our fleet serves a number of purposes," says a GM spokesman. "Among other jobs, it currently is ferrying lawyers and executives to the West Coast for the anti-trust trial there. It can and often does save time and money as well as serve as a convenience."

After World War II the availability of surplus military aircraft, the return to civilian life of many trained pilots, and the expansion of companies into new geographical areas, helped spark the air age in business.

It is estimated that 34,500 planes are owned by more than 18,000 firms with about 22,000 used primarily for business.

Six companies making private planes—Aero Commander, Beech, Cessna, Champion, Mooney and Piper—reported selling 6,778 business and utility aircraft at a total cost of $180 million in 1962.

Transportation of personnel is the prime function of business planes but they help earn their keep by rushing parts to repair machinery breakdowns and merchandise to meet urgent need.

The most recent trend has been to multiengine aircraft flown by professional pilots. Some of these big aircraft are actually airborne executive suits with seats grouped about a desk so officials can work and confer while aloft.

The NBAA reports that in 1960 professional pilots were employed to man 7,100 aircraft flown primarily in business transportation by corporations.

However there have been tragedies which have caused corporations to question the advisability of executive flying.

In 1959, a Continental Can Co. plane crashed in Ohio, killing eight executives and two pilots. In 1956, eight Crane Co. employees, including six top officials, perished when their plane went down near Louisville, Ky.

Appeals Judge, 78, Planning To Resign

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Judge C. B. McClintock 78, of the Fifth District Court of Appeals said today he has informed Gov. James A. Rhodes he will resign March 1 for health and personal reasons.

As Stark County's prosecutor, he gained wide notice as the man who prosecuted five defendants for the murder in 1926 of Don Mellett, Canton Repository editor.

Guerin Joins 10,000th Point Club

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"If I don't make that 10,000th point in my next game, I'll quit."
That was Richie Guerin of the New York Knicks talking Sunday after Cincinnati had stopped him for the second straight game from becoming the 16th player in the National Basketball Association to score 10,000 points. Guerin needed 13 points. He got six.
The 6-foot-4 former Iona, N.Y. College star can relax now. He reached and passed the 10,000-point plateau with 23 points Tuesday night although the Knicks absorbed a 121-112 lacing from the Detroit Pistons in the feature of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden. Guerin's total now is 10,016.
Guerin hit the 10,000-mark in the second period with Detroit ahead 47-30. The crowd of 6753 gave him an ovation as the game was stopped and the ball given to him. The spectators little cared that the defeat assured the Knicks of a last place finish in the Eastern Division. Don Ohl led the Pistons with 30 points.
In the first game, the Syracuse Nationals handed the Chicago Zephyrs their eighth straight defeat 118-110 behind Lee Shaffer's 41 points.
In an afternoon game at Boston, the champion Celtics also put on a late surge to win their fourth straight, 129-126 over Cincinnati. In the other NBA game scheduled Tuesday San Francisco scored a home court 111-109 victory over Los Angeles.

Final Loop Tilt For Tiger Cagers Set at Wilmington

The Circleville High School basketball team winds up its season Friday night when the Tigers invade the hardwood of Wilmington in a South Central Ohio League battle.
Although the battle for first place in the SCO cage crown is strictly a two way race between Wilmington and Miami Trace, both teams are 11-2 in loop play. Tiger Mentor Paul Reiss is pointing toward an all-out effort in the season's finale.
Reiss has made no secret of the fact that he would like Circleville to be the team to end the Wilmington home game winning streak.
The Wilmington Hurricane has an admirable six year league record of 67 wins and 12 losses. They have won 40 of their last 42 cage contests and at one time owned a 31 game win streak.

THE SCO TEAMS that have turned the tables on the Hurricane this year are Greenfield and Hillsboro. Both teams accomplished the feat on their home floors.
In early practices this week the Tigers have been riddled with illness.
Tom Smith, slowed with a sprained ankle received in the Miami Trace game, has not been at practice any this week.

Other Tigers on the sick list include Dave Hannahs, Garold Dade, and Freddie Moore. They apparently are suffering from a touch of flu, according to Paul Reiss, Tiger Coach.

However Reiss expects the team to be at full strength for the trip Friday night.

The Red and Black will be carrying a 6-11 overall record and a 4-9 loop slate into the Wilmington gymnasium.

In the earlier tilt between the two units Wilmington managed a 66-62 victory but the Hurricane was hard pressed to win.

TOM SMITH exploded for a 32 point scoring effort in that tilt — the highest single game total for a Circleville player this year.
Smith, who missed Saturday's game at Franklin Heights, has notched 189 points in 16 games for an 11.8 average.

Clesson Thomas has 161 points in 17 games to rank second in the Tiger scoring column.

Good defensive play by the Tiger guards slowed the Hurricane's fast break in the first meeting.

The Roundtown reserves will be looking for the big win come Friday. The jayvee unit, coached by Don Neff, can wrap up the undisputed South Central Ohio League reserve championship by handing the Wilmington unit a defeat.

Giants' 24-Game Winner Fights in Contract War

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Burly Jack Sanford, 24-game winner for the National League champion San Francisco Giants, revealed today that he had pitched the final week of the 1962 baseball season with a 2-inch cut in his heel from an operation to remove an abscess.

Currently involved in a contract cold war with the Giants, Sanford put a couple of hot coals into the

3 Officials Are Used in College Game

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP) — Clutter up the basketball court with a third official and you'd only get more fouls, a cynic might say.

But three officials took the floor at Tuesday's Cal Poly-Pasadena College game and, believe it or not, no more whistles than usual blew.

"We had to run a lot less," said Referee Art Stobbe after Poly's 72-66 victory. "I felt less tired after I left the game than when I started it. We were simply able to keep better positions."

The three referees called 35 fouls. Two other games in northern California Tuesday averaged 37 fouls each.

One referee worked the baseline to the left of the basket, the second stayed halfway between the baseline and midcourt to the right of the basket and the third worked at midcourt.

There were no arguments and only one conflicting call—one official ruled a ball out of bounds, another called a jump.

Roster for NIT Now Third Filled

NEW YORK (AP)—The field for the 26th National Invitation Basketball Tournament was one-third filled today with the naming of Memphis State as the fourth entry.

The Tigers, runner-up in the annual New York post-season tournament in 1957, have a 16-5 record this season. Previously named for the 12-team tournament were Miami of Florida, Providence and Canisius.

The NIT will be played March 14, 16, 19, 21 and 23 at Madison Square Garden.

Al Smith, now with Baltimore, led the Chicago White Sox in home runs last season with 16.

dispute Tuesday when he told the San Francisco Chronicle of his operation and implied that the Giants' pitching pattern was being used as a weapon against a hefty raise.

"Few people know this," said Sanford from his Duxbury, Mass., "but just before I beat St. Louis 4-2 in the final week I had an operation on my heel to remove an abscess. A 2-inch long cut. It hurt. Toward the end I also worked with a cold that drained me. Heck I worked something like three games in six days."

The fastballing right-hander, who won 16 consecutive games at one stretch as the Giants made their run at the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers, then fired a verbal broadside.

"Chub (Giants Vice President Chub Feeney) mentioned I didn't complete many games last year. Thirteen. But that was the ordered pattern. Pitch as hard as I can as long as I can and then let the bullpen clean up."

Sanford's asking price for the 1963 campaign is believed to be in the neighborhood of $35,000, a boost of about $10,000. Sanford says he and the Giants are "far apart," which is taken to mean about $5,000.

While Sanford was jolting the Giants, the Cincinnati Reds, who finished third last year, received a shock from a different direction when they were notified that outfielder Vada Pinson had undergone an appendix operation and would miss the spring training period.

Several players, meanwhile, signed Tuesday. Catcher Elston Howard and pitcher Bill Stafford came to terms with the Yankees, pitcher Billy O'Dell with the Giants and pitcher Lew Burdette with Milwaukee.

Howard, who also plays in the outfield and at first base as needed, reportedly signed for $45,000 and Stafford for an estimated $22,000. No figure was given for O'Dell, but the 36-year-old Burdette, who slumped to a 10-9 mark with the Braves last year, agreed to terms reportedly calling for $40,000.

Former Area Coach Posts 16-0 Slate At Colerain High

Tom Bryant, a former cage coach at Walnut Twp. High School here and at Hillsboro, has guided Colerain High School in Hamilton County to a 16-0 year.

In his first year at the helm of the class AA school, his quintet has copped the rugged Hamilton County double AA league.

Although rated well down in the Associated Press class AA cage poll with 11 points, Colerain is the only Cincinnati area school mentioned in the ballot.

Bryant resigned at Hillsboro following the 1961-62 school year to accept his present head coaching position.

John Kobs has coached varsity baseball, basketball, hockey and freshman football in his 35 years at Michigan State. At present he coaches baseball.

Gray Wolf Killed In Archbold Area

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A gray male wolf, which probably emigrated to this country from Canada in search of food, has been found in Ohio.

The carcass of the animal was brought here for study after it was struck and killed by a truck Sunday on U.S. 6 near Archbold in Northwest Ohio.

The motorist who found the dead creature reportedly saw another wolf, apparently its mate, watching silently down the highway.

Naturalists say there have been few gray wolves in Ohio for a century.

Irish Awarded Berth in NCAA

NEW YORK (AP)—Notre Dame with a 15-6 record, became the ninth team named to an at-large berth in the National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball championships today.

The NCAA Service Bureau said the Irish would play their first round game against the still to be determined Mid-American Conference champion in the opener of a Midwest regional doubleheader at Evanston, Ill., on March 11.

Pairings for each of the regionals were announced as well, including the designation of third-ranked Chicago Loyola to play the Ohio Valley Conference champion in the nightcap of the Evanston doubleheader.

Monday, the NCAA had named
Chicago Loyola, New York University, Texas Western, Colorado
State U., Oklahoma City U., Utah
State, Seattle and Oregon State to at-large berths.

With nine at-large berths filled, the NCAA needs two more teams to complete its 25-team championship field. One of the at-large berths will go to the Ivy League champion. The other reportedly is reserved for the winner of the Pitt-Penn State game Saturday.

The 14 other spots in the NCAA field go automatically to the champions of the major conferences across the country.

In first round pairings, the NCAA announced this line-up:

Eastern regional—

- New York U. vs. an at-large team to be named, the Southern Conference champion vs. the Yankee Conference champion and the Middle Atlantic Conference champ vs. the Ivy League king in a March 11 tripleheader at Philadelphia. The winners join the Atlantic Coast Conference champion in the Eastern semifinals and finals at College Park, Md., March 15-16. The winner of the NYU game will play the ACC champion, with the other two survivors at Philadelphia matched against each other.

Midwestern regional—Notre Dame vs. Mid-American Conference champion and Chicago Loyola vs. Ohio Valley Conference champion at Evanston March 11.
The two winners join the Big Ten champion and the Southeastern Conference champion or representative in the Midwestern semifinals and finals at East Lansing, Mich., March 15-16, with the Notre Dame-Mid-American survivor facing the Big Ten, and the Loyola-Ohio Valley survivor playing the SEC team.

Midwest regional—Colorado
State U. vs. Oklahoma City and Texas Western vs. Southwest Conference champion in a doubleheader March 9 at Lubbock, Tex.
The winners join the Missouri Valley Conference champion and the Big Eight Conference champion in Midwest semifinals and finals at Lawrence, Kan., March 15-16. The Missouri Valley champ, probably two-time NCAA champion Cincinnati, will play the Southwest-Texas Western survivor, the Big Eight champ the Colorado State-Oklahoma City survivor.

Western regional—Utah State vs. Western Athletic Conference champion and Seattle vs. Oregon
State in doubleheader at Eugene,
Ore., March 11. Utah State-WAC winner plays the Big Six conference champion and Seattle-Oregon
State winner plays the West Coast Athletic Conference champion in Western semifinals and finals at Provo Utah, March 15-16.

The four regional survivors move on to Louisville for the national semifinals and finals at Freedom Hall on March 22-23.

Duke Seeking Perfect Mark

14-0 League Record
Is Only Game Away

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Duke Devils, boasting the nation's longest winning string in major college basketball ranks, have a special incentive going for them. They're hoping to emulate the feat of North Carolina's national champions in 1956-57.

Second-ranked Duke turned back Maryland 76-70 at College Park, Md., Tuesday night and kept its streak in tact. The victory was the Blue Devils' 14th straight and gave them a perfect 13-0
Atlantic Coast Conference record with one regular season league game remaining.

The Dixie Dandies, whose overall mark is 20-2, have just one league game left before heading into the sudden-death ACC tournament in Raleigh, starting Feb. 28.

A victory over North Carolina at home Saturday night would leave Duke with a 14-0 league record. In nine previous ACC seasons, only one team has gone through without losing, North Carolina in 1956-57.

No other members of the Top Ten were scheduled Tuesday night but a number of key conference games were played.

Kansas State climbed into a tie for first place with ide Oklahoma State in the Big Eight Conference with 7-2 league records. The Wil-cats topped Kansas 67-54 at Lawrence as little Max Moss scored 18 points.

Host Texas boosted its league-leading Southwest Conference record to 10-0 and its over-all mark to 15-5 in knocking Texas A&M out of a share of second place.
83-73. The Aggies dropped to third at 6-4 as Rice moved into the runner-up spot at 7-3 with a 74-70 verdict at home over Baylor.

Georgia Tech whipped Tennessee 72-60 at Knoxville for its 19th victory in 23 starts and kept its Southeastern Conference title hopes alive.

Elsewhere: Southern Methodist outlasted Texas Christian 109-98.
Arkansas subdued Texas Tech
83-78. Drake took a 65-65 squeaker over North Texas, William and Mary turned back George Washington 79-75. South Carolina upended Clemson 51-45. DePaul crushed Gannon 83-48. Fordham posted a 78-66 verdict over CNY.
Villanova outclassed Buffalo 69-47.
Miami of Ohio vanquished Marshall 66-59. Southern Illinois stunned
Western Kentucky 95-73 and St.
Mary's, Calif., defeated Santa
Clara 81-76.

Miami Ponders
Rest of Loop

Winning of Pennant
Can Come while Idle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Miami's sophomore-studded basketball team can sit back, relax and watch the other teams in the Mid-American Conference battle it out.

The Redskins wound up their conference slate Tuesday night on a victorious note by slipping past hapless Marshall 66-59.

The win boosted Miami's league record to 8-4, a virtual tie in the games department with front-running Bowling Green. But the high-flying Falcons boast a .700 percentage on a 7-3 mark while Miami's percentage figures out to .667.

Bowling Green has two games
has three remaining. If one or the other falters, Miami could sneak away with the title.

Jeff Gehring, the Redskins' 6-foot-6 star, led his team with 23 points while Butch Clark paced Marshall with 12.

Elsewhere, a tip-in with only nine seconds left gave Memphis
State a hard-fought 61-59 triumph over Dayton. The Flyers led by 11 on two occasions but couldn't protect the margin in the road contest.

In other activity Hiram rallied with less than three minutes to play to overtake Western Reserve 71-65; Baldwin-Wallace finished strong to whip Denison 67-60 in an Ohio Conference tiff; Central State overcame a 10-point deficit to whip Cedarville 77-65; Oberlin staged an uprising in the waning minutes to clip Kenyon 48-44 in another OC scrap; Reggie Minton scored 27 points, including seven free throws, to set a school record of 264 charity flips in sparking
Wooster to a come-from-behind 72-69 victory over Ashland.

Muskingum ran off 16 straight points to open the second half enroute to a 87-69 decision over Marietta, and Weldon Kytie's field goal with 1:10 left gave Penn a 55-52 verdict over Thiel.

Railroad Reports No Abandonment Is Planned Here

The Pennsylvania Railroad has no plans to abolish its line here or impair current service, City Councilmen were told last night.

Presenting this stand was H. H. McEwen, special representative for Pennsylvania. He appeared here in connection with the railroad's application to abandon less-than-carload freight to the city which is scheduled for hearing before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

McEwen voiced strong opposition to a letter received here from the Committee for Preservation of Our Railroad Service (PORS), which hinted that Pennsylvania's less-than-carload freight could lead to eventual abandonment of the local line. The railroad official said this is not true.

According to McEwen, the railroad definitely has no plans to abolish its line in Circleville and Pickaway County. He said this is a prosperous community which the railroad plans to serve to its fullest extent.

MCEWEN went on to explain his company's reasons for seeking a merger with New York Central. His comments were based on the savings in time and expense the Pennsylvania-NYC merging would provide.

The hearing on less-than-carload service is scheduled at the PUCO office in Columbus on Mar. 28. Council gave no indication it would send a delegation to oppose the application, as requested by the PORS letter.

Additional legislative action on the Council agenda included the confirmation of Ruth Wignall, S. Court St., as a member of the City Board of Health. The appointment was made by Mayor Richard Penn.

Local Student Enrolled At Rio Grande College

Rio Grande College, Rio Grande, O., today listed a local student in its second semester enrollment.

Charles Mowery began his second semester as a freshman at the Gallia County college.

Mrs. Wignall's term will extend to Dec. 1, 1963. The appointment was confirmed by a 7-0 vote.

Police Chief Robert Temple reported that he is ready to meet with Council's Safety Committee for further discussions on parking meters. Current efforts are being made to replace worn out and non-servicable equipment.

Complaints on sewage difficulties on Stella Ave. were brought up by Councilman Charles Kirkpatrick. The problem centers on the backing up of sewage in the area.

COUNCILMAN Joe Bell and Mayor Penn explained that it is the property owner's responsibility to provide adequate laying of line to the city's main. They said this includes street work that often times is required in order to get to the faulty line.

Penn said the Service Department has offered aid to such projects in the past. But he emphasized that the basic responsibility lies with the land owner.

aides, and in Cleveland a class for turret lathe operators. Starting March 4, courses will be taught in turret lathe and milling machine operation in Painesville.

"Selection of candidates for the courses is determined by the normal requirements of employers in the area who hire in the particular occupation," Stanton said.

To be eligible, applicants must have been either the head of a household or family for three years, have work experience and be unemployed or under employed. Under employment means working too few hours to maintain a decent standard of living.

Enrollees between 19 and 22 years of age are given a $20-a-week training allowance. Heads of families are allowed $41. This compares with a maximum weekly unemployment check of $52 a week. However, the candidate may continue receiving unemployment compensation instead of the training allowance.

Requiring the least financing is a five-week course for 21 students learning to be service station auto mechanics.

The longest course is practical nursing. Twenty-two are enrolled in the 52-week course, which started recently.

A sizeable number in the program have a high school education or better. Of the 19 students completing the service station mechanic course, two had completed high school and five had some college.

"There is a high proportion of members of minority groups because they lack job opportunities," Stanton said.

"The program is progressing slowly, but satisfactorily," he observed. "It will by no means solve the unemployment problem."

Westfall District To Stick With 4 Cage Teams in 63-64

The Westfall Board of Education has decided that the basketball teams of the district shall play as separate units during the 1963-64 school year, it was announced today by Jud Lanman, executive head of the school district.

High schools in the district are Darby, Jackson, Monroe and Williamsport.

The decision was made after careful consideration of the problems involved in having the basketball teams play as a single unit, Lanman reported.

He noted that by the rules of the Ohio High School Athletic Assn., a district's athletic teams may play as a unit one year before moving into a single building. However, if they play as a unit in one sport they must play as a unit in all sports.

THE BOARD felt no gymnasium

in the district is large enough to hold the crowd for home games. Another problem considered was the distance boys would have to travel to get to practice sessions.

Completion date for construction of the new school has been tentatively set as Jan. 4, 1964.

Lanman noted that should the schools move into the new building before the end of the basketball season, they would still compete as separate units.

The first Westfall School athletic teams will compete in sanctioned sports events during the 1964-65 school year.

However, a single football team will be formed to play scrimmage sessions only during the 1963 season.

The plan has been approved by the OHSAA, it was pointed out by the Westfall executive head.

School Administrator Unit Suggests Code at Convention

The nation's largest organization of school superintendents has suggested a code of ethics for its members and philanthropic foundations in the field of education.

The American Assn. of School Administrators, holding its annual convention at Atlantic City, N. J., released a report, which implied that foundation-supported educational research, while valuable, has not been of uniform quality.

Fritz Jacobs, superintendent of Circleville schools, is attending the convention scheduled to end Friday.

An AASA Committee on Foundations released a study report called "Private Philanthropy and Public Purposes."

CARRYING the subtitle, "an inquiry into the relationships between foundations and public education," the report said the committee's function was "neither to condemn nor to laud," but merely to "make accurate observations and to draw sound and unbiased conclusions."

The committee findings led to the formulation of a 30-point code of ethics. Some of the highlights are:

"There should be no pressure from the foundation on a researcher to do anything but search for objective truth — not search for facts to bolster a preconceived notion or attitude of the foundation."

"Research results should not be announced until the facts are complete. There should be no conclusions drawn from incomplete research."

"In appointments to education posts, school boards and trustees should not be unduly influenced by foundation officials."

The report did not name any foundations as examples of code violators.

THE AASA report also suggested setting up a clearinghouse of information about educational research in order to avoid duplication of research already done. A clearinghouse is also needed, the report said, on which school systems may report basic local data on standard forms.

Although foundations date from the 1800s, it has only been in the last 20 years or so that their growth has become "startling." Today, the private philanthropic foundations have assets of $12 billion and make grants each year amounting to $700 million, the report says.

To insure that foundation efforts are not wasted, a set of ethical criteria are needed to guide both the foundations and the recipients of their grants, the report concludes.

K of C Holds Lecturer's Meet

Hannan Council 5297, Knights of Columbus, held its regular monthly lecturer's meeting Monday evening in the council rooms, Franklin and Pickaway Streets.

William Thornton, grand knight, presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers. Speakers included Robert E. Branch, central Ohio agent for K of C insurance, who explained the need for insurance with a question and answer period following.

Paul J. Lynch, State Columbian Squires chairman, explained the functions and the projects a Circle of Squires performs.

Ralph May Jr. was honored as the "Knight of the Month" for his work in membership.

It was announced that an exemplification of the second degree would be held 1:30 p. m. Sunday in the basement of St. Joseph's Church.

Bible Class To Meet

The Harper Bible Class of First EUB Church will meet 7:30 p. m. Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Radcliff, 112 Rosewood Ave.

Railroad Reports No Abandonment Is Planned Here

The Pennsylvania Railroad has no plans to abolish its line here or impair current service, City Councilmen were told last night.

Presenting this stand was H. H. McEwen, special representative for Pennsylvania. He appeared here in connection with the railroad's application to abandon less-than-carload freight to the city which is scheduled for hearing before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

McEwen voiced strong opposition to a letter received here from the Committee for Preservation of Our Railroad Service (PORS), which hinted that Pennsylvania's less-than-carload freight could lead to eventual abandonment of the local line. The railroad official said this is not true.

According to McEwen, the railroad definitely has no plans to abolish its line in Circleville and Pickaway County. He said this is a prosperous community which the railroad plans to serve to its fullest extent.

McEwen went on to explain his company's reasons for seeking a merger with New York Central. His comments were based on the savings in time and expense the Pennsylvania-NYC merging would provide.

The hearing on less-than-carload service is scheduled at the PUCO office in Columbus on Mar. 28. Council gave no indication it would send a delegation to oppose the application, as requested by the PORS letter.

Additional legislative action on the Council agenda included the confirmation of Ruth Wignall, S. Court St., as a member of the City Board of Health. The appointment was made by Mayor Richard Penn.

Local Student Enrolled At Rio Grande College
Rio Grande College, Rio Grande, O., today listed a local student in its second semester enrollment. Charles Mowery began his second semester as a freshman at the Gallia County college.

Mrs. Wignall's term will extend to Dec. 1, 1963. The appointment was confirmed by a 7-0 vote.

Police Chief Robert Temple reported that he is ready to meet with Council's Safety Committee for further discussions on parking meters. Current efforts are being made to replace worn out and non-serviceable equipment.

Complaints on sewage difficulties on Stella Ave. were brought up by Councilman Charles Kirkpatrick. The problem centers on the backing up of sewage in the area.

COUNCILMAN Joe Bell and Mayor Penn explained that it is the property owner's responsibility to provide adequate laying of line to the city's main. They said this includes street work that often times is required in order to get to the faulty line.

Penn said the Service Department has offered aid to such projects in the past. But he emphasized that the basic responsibility lies with the land owner.

aides, and in Cleveland a class for turret lathe operators. Starting March 4, courses will be taught in turret lathe and milling machine operation in Painesville.

"Selection of candidates for the courses is determined by the normal requirements of employers in the area who hire in the particular occupation," Stanton said.

To be eligible, applicants must have been either the head of a household or family for three years, have work experience and be unemployed or under employed. Under employment means working too few hours to maintain a decent standard of living.

Enrollees between 19 and 22 years of age are given a $20-a-week training allowance. Heads of families are allowed $41. This compares with a maximum weekly unemployment check of $52 a week. However, the candidate may continue receiving unemployment compensation instead of the training allowance.

Requiring the least financing is a five-week course for 21 students learning to be service station auto mechanics.

The longest course is practical nursing. Twenty-two are enrolled in the 52-week course, which started recently.

A sizeable number in the program have a high school education or better. Of the 19 students completing the service station mechanic course, two had completed high school and five had some college.

"There is a high proportion of members of minority groups because they lack job opportunities," Stanton said.

"The program is progressing slowly, but satisfactorily," he observed. "It will by no means solve the unemployment problem."

Westfall District To Stick With 4 Cage Teams in 63-64

The Westfall Board of Education has decided that the basketball teams of the district shall play as separate units during the 1963-64 school year, it was announced today by Jud Lanman, executive head of the school district.

High schools in the district are Darby, Jackson, Monroe and Williamsport.

The decision was made after careful consideration of the problems involved in having the basketball teams play as a single unit, Lanman reported.

He noted that by the rules of the Ohio High School Athletic Assn., a district's athletic teams may play as a unit one year before moving into a single building. However, if they play as a unit in one sport they must play as a unit in all sports.

THE BOARD felt no gymnasium

in the district is large enough to hold the crowd for home games. Another problem considered was the distance boys would have to travel to get to practice sessions.

Completion date for construction of the new school has been tentatively set as Jan. 4, 1964.

Lanman noted that should the schools move into the new building before the end of the basketball season, they would still compete as separate units.

The first Westfall School athletic teams will compete in sanctioned sports events during the 1964-65 school year.

However, a single football team will be formed to play scrimmage sessions only during the 1963 season.

The plan has been approved by the OHSA, it was pointed out by the Westfall executive head.

School Administrator Unit Suggests Code at Convention

The nation's largest organization of school superintendents has suggested a code of ethics for its members and philanthropic foundations in the field of education.

The American Assn. of School Administrators, holding its annual convention at Atlantic City, N. J., released a report, which implied that foundation-supported educational research, while valuable, has not been of uniform quality.

Fritz Jacobs, superintendent of Circleville schools, is attending the convention scheduled to end Friday.

An AASA Committee on Foundations released a study report called "Private Philanthropy and Public Purposes."

CARRYING the subtitle, "an inquiry into the relationships between foundations and public education," the report said the committee's function was "neither to condemn nor to laud," but merely to "make accurate observations and to draw sound and unbiased conclusions."

The committee findings led to the formulation of a 30-point code of ethics. Some of the highlights are:

"There should be no pressure from the foundation on a researcher to do anything but search for objective truth — not search for facts to bolster a preconceived notion or attitude of the foundation."

"Research results should not be announced until the facts are complete. There should be no conclusions drawn from incomplete research."

"In appointments to education posts, school boards and trustees should not be unduly influenced by foundation officials."

The report did not name any foundations as examples of code violators.

THE AASA report also suggested setting up a clearinghouse of information about educational research in order to avoid duplication of research already done. A clearinghouse is also needed, the report said, on which school systems may report basic local data on standard forms.

Although foundations date from the 1800s, it has only been in the last 20 years or so that their growth has become "startling." Today, the private philanthropic foundations have assets of $12 billion and make grants each year amounting to $700 million, the report says.

To insure that foundation efforts are not wasted, a set of ethical criteria are needed to guide both the foundations and the recipients of their grants, the report concludes.

K of C Holds Lecturer's Meet

Hannan Council 5297, Knights of Columbus, held its regular monthly lecturer's meeting Monday evening in the council rooms, Franklin and Pickaway Streets.

William Thornton, grand knight, presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers. Speakers included Robert E. Branch, central Ohio agent for K of C insurance, who explained the need for insurance with a question and answer period following.

Paul J. Lynch, State Columbian Squires chairman, explained the functions and the projects a Circle of Squires performs.

Ralph May Jr. was honored as the "Knight of the Month" for his work in membership.

It was announced that an exemplification of the second degree would be held 1:30 p. m. Sunday in the basement of St. Joseph's Church.

Bible Class To Meet
The Harper Bible Class of First EUB Church will meet 7:30 p. m. Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Radcliff, 112 Rosewood Ave.
